

LOWELL ALL READY FOR WAR REGISTRATION

At a conference held at city hall this morning between the mayor, the chief of police and the board of registrars, final preparations for registration day tomorrow were discussed. Supt. Welch announced that the officers who are to be off duty during the hours of registration have volunteered their services at the various booths. The booths will open at 7 a. m. and will remain open until 9 p. m. or later if the demand requires it. The list of booths for registration is the same as that of the booths for election, but in order that there may be no misunderstanding on Continued to Last Page

FINAL WARNING AGAINST EVASION OF DRAFT

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Final warning against evasion of the draft registration tomorrow, attempts to induce others to evade it was issued today by Attorney General Gregory. He said he expected a few men in each community to refuse to register, but anticipated no resort to force to prevent execution of the law. "It is the duty of this department to prosecute evaders and it is proposed to do so," said the attorney general. Italians living in this country were urged to register by the Prince of Udine, head of Italy's war mission in an address to a delegation of his countrymen who called on him at the embassy. It was announced today that the requirement of the new law that the registration cards of men absent from their home precincts reach the precinct registrar by June 5, would not be enforced against Americans now abroad. Instructions sent to American consuls, accompanying registration cards, however, ask those who fill out the blanks to get them back to the registrars as quickly as possible. The regulations provide that Americans returning to the United States must register within five days after their arrival at an American port. Registration at the consulates abroad, however, is purely voluntary and cannot be enforced while the citizen remains out of the country.

Man Arrested in Boston
BOSTON, June 4.—John Scorsoni was arrested by federal authorities today charged with advising two young men of draft age not to register tomorrow as required by the president's proclamation. Information regarding Scorsoni's alleged activities was obtained by the police, who reported the matter to United States Marshal John J. Mitchell. Charles Barkus and Stanley Collis, the young men concerned in the charge, were summoned to testify as witnesses for the government at a preliminary hearing.

Arrest at New Britain
NEW BRITAIN, Conn., June 4.—Efforts were being made by the authorities today to locate the persons responsible for distribution of anti-draft literature in this city. Hundreds of hand-bills, condemning conscription and arraignment the government for such action have been distributed. One person, Matthew Maizka, is under arrest on suspicion but the au-

Intense Excitement in Russian Capital—Vast Fire Followed By Explosion at Gutuyeff—Ceaseless Counter Attacks By Germans on Western Front

There seems ample evidence that the Germans are prepared to go almost any length at present in sacrifices of men to hold the situation on the western front in hand. Sanguinary Repulse. Along the line held by the French the effort is taking the form of almost ceaseless counter-attacks, both in the Aisne region and in the Champagne. Although suffering a sanguinary repulse on Sunday in repeated attacks on the Valenciennes and Calonne plateaus they made a new thrust last night further west near Froimont farm, along the Chemin-des-Dames plateau. The Paris report shows this to have had some measure of success, the crown prince's troops forcing their way into some advanced French positions. The British on their front have not been so frequently counter-attacked, but whenever recently they have assayed an advance they have evidently found dense masses of Germans opposing them. Today's British official statement does not mention any further progress.

$60,000 CASE AGAINST OLD LOWELL BANK

The case of John F. Sawyer, administrator with the will annexed of the estate of Sarah H. Spalding vs. the Old Lowell National bank, an action of contract, the ad damnum of which is $60,000, went to trial at the civil session of the superior court with jury this morning at the local court house, with Justice Morton presiding. This is a rather interesting case inasmuch as it is claimed that the will of Sarah H. Spalding was lost or kept in a vault at the Old Lowell National bank and that the money of the estate was distributed to next of kin, who were not mentioned in the will. The will was later found and although efforts were made to recover the money distributed, the entire sum could not be recovered and accordingly the suit for damages. The plaintiff in his declaration states that Sarah H. Spalding deposited a box or trunk containing her last will in a vault of the Old Lowell National bank. Spalding died April 5, 1902, and after a lapse of a reasonable interval of time no will was found. On May 21, 1902, Charles H. Coburn was appointed administrator by the probate court and he and his attorney, J. Gilbert Hill, visited the bank and received boxes belonging to Sarah H. Spalding, but the box containing the will was not received. The administrator distributed among the next of kin the sum of $23,503.27 and on June 7, 1905 the final account was allowed by the probate court. In the early part of Feb. 1910, the box containing the will was produced but the administrator named in the will had previously deceased, and John F. Sawyer was appointed administrator. It was found that none of the next of kin among whom the estate had been distributed was named in the will. Diligent efforts were made to recover the money, but the administrator had been unable to recover the whole and accordingly the legatees named in the will suffered heavy losses. The plaintiff claims the loss is due to the breach of the defendant's implied obligation. The defendant makes a general denial of the charges and further states that the cause of action as set out in the plaintiff's writ and declaration accrued more than six years prior to the date of the plaintiff's suit and therefore the plaintiff is not entitled to recover. F. E. Dunbar appears for the plaintiff and James J. Kervin and James C. Reilly for the defendant. The first witness called was John F. Sawyer, the plaintiff, who stated he is treasurer and trustee of the Lowell General Hospital, one of the legacies in the will and cashier of the Old Lowell National bank. He said he was informed of the finding of Miss Spalding's will at the Old Lowell National bank after he had received his appointment as administrator of the estate and after taking possession of the will he sent to the probate court. He received the will March 17, 1910, from the late Charles H. Coburn, at that time president of the Old Lowell National bank. The tin box was produced and attention of the jury was called to the name of Miss Spalding scratched on the cover and bottom of the box. Continuing Mr. Sawyer said he has made efforts to recover the property distributed by the administrator in New Hampshire and New York and as a result the sum of $4279.75 was recovered in the state of New Hampshire and $3948.72 in the state of New York. There was a real estate under the will which had not been disposed of and Mr. Sawyer sold it and has now on hand about $10,000. New Hampshire Attorney. A. M. Wilson, an attorney from Manchester, N. H., told of being retained by Mr. Sawyer to recover money in New Hampshire. He said as a result of his efforts he obtained a decree from the court to recover $20,252.28 and received the sum of $4582.51 on account. He said an execution is now being taken out for the balance. He also stated that his expenses in the collection of the money amounted to $578.76. On cross-examination, Mr. Wilson said that under the laws of New Hampshire he has a right to take out executions after the decree is granted, but in this case he did not. He said the money he recovered was paid voluntarily.

COURT PUTS THOMAS AND FOYE BACK IN OFFICE

Hearings were held in Boston at 10 o'clock this morning before Judge Loring of the supreme judicial court on a motion made by Edward H. Foye, Robert J. Thomas and Andrew G. Stiles, purchasing agent, superintendent of the water works and city treasurer, respectively, through their attorneys, Qua, Howard and Rogers, for writs of mandamus to issue pursuant to the decision of the full bench of the supreme court recently rendered. After arguments by Lawyer Qua and City Solicitor William D. Regan, the latter representing a majority of the municipal council, the courts ordered the writs to issue forthwith in favor of Thomas and Foye, and of an execution for costs to be issued against the respondents. In the Stiles case, in view of the fact that the municipal council recently voted to remove him a second time after an alleged hearing, Judge Loring ordered that the first petition be dismissed without prejudice, however, to Stiles' right to bring another petition to test the legality of the second removal. The court also ordered that the respondents pay the costs of the Stiles case. City Solicitor Regan had filed a petition for a stay of judgment in the latter case.

MAY BE CHARGED WITH TREASON

NEW YORK, June 4.—With three men under arrest who are alleged to be only minor figures in a conspiracy to transmit information of military value from the United States to Germany through neutral mail channels, the federal authorities and city detectives today indicated further arrests which they said might result in disclosures of a German spy system. Apparently the government officers hoped they could uncover an explanation of how Germany knew in advance of the approach of the American destroyers to the British coast so that an Irish port could be mined. Statements of where and when the three defendants were arrested, and their identity, were withheld pending their arraignment today before a United States commissioner. "The charge against them at present," United States Assistant District Attorney Knox said, "is that of conspiring with the government by carrying mail in opposition to the government." Mr. Knox added that the charge might be changed to treason.

Two of the men are said to be American-born and the third a naturalized citizen. Examination of a quantity of mail seized by federal agents indicated transmission of information on steamships to Mexico and thence possibly by wireless to Germany. A fourth man, described as the son of a German army captain, was arrested this forenoon. The police refused to disclose his identity prior to his arraignment before the federal commissioner.

CHILD KILLED BY AUTO IN MOODY STREET

Kyrilakoula Patriarhes, aged 12 years and living at 696 Merrimack street, was knocked down, run over and killed by an automobile operated by Dewey G. Archambault, in Moody street, near the corner of Cabot street, shortly before nine o'clock this morning. The ambulance was summoned but upon its arrival, finding that the child was dead, the body was removed to the undertaking rooms of Mr. Archambault and later taken to those of Undertaker Napoleon Bileadeau, 713 Merrimack street. Traffic Officer Edward F. Flanagan who was in the vicinity at the time, after seeing that the child's body was cared for, accompanied Mr. Archambault to the police station where the latter gave his version of the accident to Supt. Welch and he was released under $2000 bonds for his appearance in police court tomorrow morning.

According to young Archambault, the driver of the automobile, he was conveying a bridal party from the church to the house where the reception was to be held. He was going up Moody street and when near the corner of Cabot street he noticed the approach of a heavy automobile truck. When almost abreast of the truck a child ran out from the rear of the machine and by prompt manipulation of the steering wheel he avoided striking the child. The Patriarhes child, who was also behind the truck, ran out immediately afterwards and before Archambault could make another shift the wheel of his automobile struck the child, knocked her down and ran over her. Stopping his machine he picked up the child and word was sent for the ambulance but the child was either instantly killed or died a few minutes after being struck by the machine. Upon hearing of the accident Supt. Welch of the police department assigned Sergt. Maguire and Officer Flanagan to secure the details.

NOT TO INCREASE SECOND CLASS POSTAGE RATES
WASHINGTON, June 4.—After several hours' discussion, how newspapers, magazines and other publications shall be taxed for war purposes, the senate finance committee today adopted a resolution against increasing second class postage rates and in favor of levying a direct flat two percent tax upon advertising receipts. The legislation was tentative but is expected to be final.

TO DRAFT ARMY AT ONCE

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Plans of the war department to draft from 500,000 to 1,500,000 men of the 10,000,000 who, it is estimated will register tomorrow for the new army were disclosed today by Provost Marshal General Crowder to the senate military affairs committee. Exemptions, he said, probably would result in reducing the number to 625,000 men for immediate service.

The undefeated C.M.A.C. and Broadway Social club teams met at Spaulding park Saturday afternoon and battled for the championship of the city. The former team, with the assistance of Constantineau, winning by a score of 6 to 2. The game was well contested throughout but time's hitting on the part of the winning aggregation had much to do with the victory. Constantineau, the star southpaw of the C.M.A.C., succeeded in striking out 12 of the men who faced him, allowing but four hits.

THE K. OF C. OPEN THEIR SUMMER CAMP

The formal opening of the summer camp of Lowell council, Knights of Columbus, at Tyngsboro, took place yesterday afternoon, and about 400 members were present to enjoy the program arranged for the day. A feature of the exercises was the raising of a large American flag at which Mayor James P. Flynn, who was the principal speaker. During the day State Deputy Daniel J. Gallagher of Boston spoke and Rev. W. George Mullin, who has been chaplain of the council for several years, addressed the members for the last time in his capacity as such. The council director, for he left today for his new pastorate at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Manchester-by-the-Sea.

SUNDAY SERVICES IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES

Rev. W. TELLS OF SINKING OF
TWO ALLIED SHIPS

NEW YORK June 4.—The British freight steamship Karuma, of 2333 tons gross, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine April 21, near the Spanish coast, according to Chris Thornton, an American seaman, a survivor of the ship, who arrived here. Thornton said the ship was attacked without warning while on the way from Malta to a British port. The second engineer and a sailor lost their lives, he declared.

The Karuma, built in Sunderland in 1910, was owned by the Unison Steam Shipping Co., of London. When sunk she was in the service of the British admiralty, carrying supplies.
The Russian bark Imberhorne, of 1558 tons gross, from Mobile, Ala., March 28, for Greenock, Scotland, was sunk by a German submarine on May 1 off the west coast of Ireland, according to American members of the crew who have arrived here. The crew escaped.

HEALTH WEEK

BEGINNING JUNE 4

The Lowell
Anti-Tuberculosis
Council

Announce that pictures relating to health will be shown at the following theatres:

CROWN, JEWEL, KEITH'S, MERRIMACK SQUARE, OWL and ROYAL

AMUSEMENT NOTES

The following notices are from the press agents of the theatres mentioned.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"Joan the Woman," the only picture ever presented in this or any other country, for which a charge of 50 was made for admission, will be shown at the B. F. Keith theatre, every afternoon and evening during the present week. It is in 11 reels, and the principal character, that of the "Maid of Orleans," is taken by Miss Geraldine Farrar.

And this character of Joan is one of the few that will go down through all time, in all history, for thousands of years to come. It was as a woman, glowing and spiritually helpful today as it was nearly 400 years ago. Strong as the tempest, Joan was ever as calm and as beautiful as the sunshine when it kisses the flowers. Her career was a while of a knight was ever fuller of lion-like courage, she was uniformly gentle and kind. Perhaps the greatest thing that this picture will accomplish during its career here and elsewhere will be the revelation of the greatness of the womanly character when it is really and truly womanly. We of today are just beginning to see the entrance of woman into the great, wide life of the world from which she has hitherto been debarred; and many are wondering what the result will be. Will woman be able to act her part nobly and well in the great arena toward which she is drifting? And can she go into the battle, the seething, rough-and-tumble competition and not be ruined? In all way out of keeping with the star. One of the modern touches in the story concerns the English Tommy who expiates the crime of the English by doing his bit for France. Joan was a woman, a gentle woman, full of love and gentleness and devotion to the ideal that means more to her than life itself.

Joan and her almost miraculous career are made to live before us so that it is as real as though we had been living back in France of the first quarter of the 15th century. Geraldine Farrar is at her best as Joan, and the success is in no way out of keeping with the star. One of the modern touches in the story concerns the English Tommy who expiates the crime of the English by doing his bit for France. Joan was a woman, a gentle woman, full of love and gentleness and devotion to the ideal that means more to her than life itself.

Today, Tuesday and Wednesday will go down in the theatrical history of Lowell as three of the biggest days for on these days will be seen at the Merrimack Square theatre the half a million dollar spectacle, "The Masque of Life," the play which has startled America because it is the most spectacular film ever made. Just imagine a monkey taking a little baby and climbing to the top of a 360 foot chimney, and followed by a girl who dangle tears the child from him and buries him to his death. This is one of the gripping, amazing scenes in the film spectacle of 1001 thrills; another scene is the actual burning of a circus, the accompanying pandemonium, the escape of hundreds of wild animals. These are but a few of the vivid incidents of the film which opens this afternoon at the Merrimack Square theatre, "The Masque of Life." It really is a two dollar a seat picture, but it will be shown here three days only at regular prices. Don't fail to see this spectacle which contains much tragedy, laughter and tears. Other plays will also be shown on this big special program.

one of Uncle Sam's secret services men. In this new release Courtenay is to be seen in a role which the critics have already quipped to be the best in which he has ever appeared.
In the stirring photoplay, "The Accomplish," the other big feature which will also be shown at the Owl today and tomorrow, Dorothy Bernard, that charming young screen star, is to be seen in one of the best plays ever produced, depicting the night life of New York's smart set. In this film all the bright spots along bright Broadway are to be seen, and the different varieties of entertainment which help shorten the average New Yorker's life.
Completing the bill is a funny side-splitting comedy which will help to drive dull care away.
CROWN THEATRE
Should a woman forgive or condemn the unfaithful man?
The question is raised and answered in "The Greater Woman," the Powell-Mutual picture presenting Miss Marjorie Rambeau, the celebrated stage star, in her screen debut and a feature attraction at the Crown on today and tomorrow.
The role of Auricle Praed, the betrayed and tempted wife, gives to Miss Rambeau a vehicle of exceptional scope—a curiously strong part, and yet one which demands of her that she portray just sweet, simple womanhood.
The picture is of the type to be called "satisfactory" in the sense of a happy ending. Just because Miss Rambeau as Auricle Praed, is big enough to delineate a dramatic climax and conclusion that is as simple and clear as it is unexpected.
Also showing on the same program at the Crown today and tomorrow is the first episode of the great mystery serial, "The Mystery of the Double Cross," the story of which is now appearing in one of the daily Boston papers. Appearing in the stellar role is Mollie King. Other features will also be presented.

JEWEL THEATRE
Of the many legitimate stage players who take up a screen career, none stands more prominently than Valeska Suratt, who is actually employed under the William Fox banner. One of her greatest picture achievements is "Jealousy," which is offered as a special attraction, the story of which is now appearing in one of the daily Boston papers. Appearing in the stellar role is Mollie King. Other features will also be presented.

ROYAL THEATRE
Fascinating Mabel Trunnelle, the dark eyed favorite featured in so many successful Edison photodramas, is co-starring with Robert Connors in the latest Edison marvel play, "The Master Passion," scheduled for showing at the Royal theatre today and tomorrow.
"The Master Passion" according to advance reports, tells a gripping story of a beautiful woman's rise and fall. Goaded by ambition, the heroine, played by Miss Trunnelle, leaves her husband and little girl to seek fame as an opera singer. Later, with the world at her feet, she learns that her daughter, since grown to fair young womanhood, is to be the bride of a dissolute nobleman with whom she herself has had an intrigue.
Then comes a succession of highly dramatic scenes, in which the diva, having been reconciled to her husband, through the mediation of their child, is forced to bare the secrets of her life in order to prevent the marriage with the problem man from taking place. Infuriated, the husband casts her adrift and leaves the city, taking the daughter with him. But through sacrifice the woman's debt has been paid in full; a second reconciliation takes place and love leads her once more to the family hearthstone, there to find lasting peace.
The other attraction on this big double bill is "Lonesome Luke," a comedy, which features Pearl White in the leading role. This is a magnificent, well acted and charmingly produced five act drama. A "Lonesome Luke" comedy, as others will complete this big show at usual prices.

THE SPELLBINDER

If Lowell does not register her combat quota properly and on time, it will not be because of insufficient publicity on the part of the newspapers and those in authority at city hall. In order to get the matters of registration and Liberty Loan properly before the foreign element, Mayor O'Donnell made regulation upon the committee on patriotic assimilation of the Massachusetts committee on public safety. Two subjects printed in different languages to be distributed in the different colonies of this city. The committee responded with acts printed in Greek, Polish, Lithuanian and Yiddish. His Honor had one of each posted in the post office and had the other placed in the different colonies in conspicuous places by the patrolmen whose routes the colonies are located. He sent back for circulars printed in Portuguese but at this writing had not received them. The committee on patriotic assimilation aims to get all the foreign elements in the state interested in the war; both through serving in the army and navy and through the purchase of Liberty bonds. In some places it has had speakers address different gatherings in their own tongue while it has sent out circulars printed in numerous languages to the different cities and towns where the languages are spoken. There are thousands of young foreigners in this Commonwealth who have come here to reside permanently who have had military experience in their own country and who make good soldiers. Among the Greeks there are hundreds who have seen actual war service in the Balkans. That registration is being given due publicity elsewhere is evident from the fact that registration cards in large numbers have been received in this city from Lowell young men located all over the country and from the addresses on them it is evident that quite a few Lowell boys are holding positions in the different munitions plants of the country.

An interesting question was asked of the registrars a few days ago, as follows: "A Lowell boy went to New York to work when 17 years of age. He has never returned and he was 21 years of age a few months ago. He is unmarried and all of his family reside in Lowell. Shall he register as from New York or from Lowell?"

The answer is—"Whichever place he calls his home—from there he must register." On first thought one might believe that it would be better for that young man to register from New York. But it would be wiser for him to consider whether New York looks after her soldiers as well as Massachusetts, which has the record of being one of the best. If not the best, state in the Union for caring for its soldiers. Take the case of the Civil War veterans. In Massachusetts state aid is paid by the state and neighboring state of New Hampshire and in other states, the Civil War veterans receive neither state aid nor soldiers' relief. In the present war the soldiers in addition to their federal pay are allowed $10 per month additional for the support of their families. If they retire from the service while the state is paying from $10 to $40 per month to all dependents. Few states

MEETING OF FRIENDS OF IRISH FREEDOM

An enthusiastic meeting of the local branch of the Friends of Irish Freedom was held last evening with a good attendance. President M. J. Sharkey occupied the chair and there was considerable business transacted. A pleasing musical entertainment was provided.

The speakers of the evening were James O'Sullivan, Daniel J. Murphy, Patrick F. Mahoney and Philip H. Harty, and each warned the audience to be on its guard against any British promises of a national convention, such as the one called at the present time, as the rights of Ireland must be confined to the empire and the result will not be like that in Canada, Australia or other British possessions enjoying home rule.

In his remarks, Mr. O'Sullivan said: "Irishmen wanted the right of self-government and no Irishman will be content with a home rule such as that one at present hung up in the house of commons." Continuing, the speaker said: "Why did not Lloyd George give a measure of home rule such as that enjoyed by Canada, instead of a convention, which must make all its laws within the empire and at the call of the empire?" In outlining the fight for democracy, he also touched on the rights of small nations such as those given by President Wilson in his recent speech, and said: "We want the democracy of Abraham Lincoln and not the democracy of England." Mr. O'Sullivan finished by hoping that the end of the present war would see the end of all kings, rulers and empires.

John E. Mahoney and Michael J. Sharkey spoke against the present home rule bill and the proposed Irish convention.

Don't be discouraged Resinol Soap will clear your skin

Many and many a girl has a clear, healthy complexion today because some friend came to her with that sound advice. Resinol Soap not only is delightful cleansing and refreshing, but its daily use reduces the tendency to pimples, offsets many ill-effects of cosmetics, and gives nature the chance she needs to make red, rough skins white and soft.

If the skin is in bad shape, through neglect or improper treatment, a little Resinol Ointment should at first be used to soften the skin. Resinol Soap, to hasten the return to normal conditions. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are sold by all druggists.

"Solving Darkest"

The municipal council may not be saving daylight by holding its hearings on an early hour in the morning but it is certainly utilizing daylight and thereby is saving money on lighting bills, and for this slight practice of economy, which I assume was its reason for calling the meetings at such an early hour, the members might be entitled to faint praise were it not for the fact that by their tactics they have made it necessary for the taxpayers to pay salaries of two hundred dollars a month to the clerk and for the fact that they will much more than offset the savings made by holding daylight hearings on the cases. The commissioners properly under way than by making business for the spellbinder.

$100,000 FIRE IN BOSTON

BOSTON, June 4.—Fire in the manufacturing section of the South Boston district today destroyed the chemical plant of T. C. Ashley & Co., the warehouse and work rooms of the International Waste Co., two stables occupied by transfer companies, and threatened to spread to rows of tenement buildings nearby. The loss was estimated at $100,000.

Virtually every piece of fire apparatus in the city was called out, as a stiff wind sent sparks flying in every direction. By quick work the flames were checked before they reached a number of chemical plants in the neighborhood, and many smaller structures which blazed up and added to the danger were saved by firemen and volunteers.

Officers of the Ashley Co. in whose plant the blaze started said they were unable to determine the cause.

GERMANY SUSPENDS PATENT RIGHTS

Special to The Sun
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4.—Germany has suspended the patent rights of all alien enemies, and it is assumed that automatically such American rights have been included in the list. Congressman Curry of California has put the question up to the state department, and unless an American patent rights are now protected by Germany Mr. Curry will introduce a bill in congress that the United States shall suspend all German patent rights, copyrights and trade marks during the war and for a term of 2 years after the close of the war. If American patents are not yet suspended by Germany Mr. Curry will not at present press the matter. Under our laws infringement of German patents is forbidden and any person or corporation breaking them would be breaking a law of the United States. Mr. Curry believes that the conversion of German patent rights covering dyestuffs, chemicals, clothes and many medicines would greatly assist the United States in the present crisis. Germany suspended the patent laws of England, France and Italy, and these countries were prompt in making a counter thrust by suspending the patent rights of Germany and Mr. Curry believes that this country should follow the same course in order to give all possible assistance to the interests of the United States which may suffer on account of the war.

The Sparks World Famous shows have been successfully established for the past 27 years and bear a reputation second to none for the high class exhibitions presented and the honest manner they have of dealing with the public—no gambling or grafting being tolerated or carried with these shows.

PROTEST FREIGHT RATE INCREASE
WASHINGTON, June 4.—Protests of a dozen industries ranging from non-alcoholic beverages to gasoline were presented to the interstate commerce commission today in the shipper's fight against the 15 per cent. freight rate increase asked by the railroads. Among the interests represented were cement, coal, matches, rubber tires, livestock, grain and lumber.

Plant Juice Only Medicine to Help

R. J. Sleeper, 12 "C" Street, Lowell, Had Suffered for the Past Two Years

The term stomach trouble is descriptive of symptoms which indicate very serious conditions. The stomach is the keystone of the human system.

R. J. SLEEPER

Hardly an organ of the body can be ill unless it is directly traceable to the stomach. No matter how slight these pains may be, they mean that something is wrong, and that they should not be treated lightly.

Thousands of people suffer from the various symptoms of stomach disorder brought on probably by overeating, indigestion, irregular hours, protracted hours of study, fret and worry of business, financial reverses, disappointments, irregular hours, or dissipation. All pursuits and avocations, if not properly balanced, furnish their share to the army of those afflicted with stomach, liver, kidney trouble and rheumatism.

Plant Juice, the new herbal stomachic, is proving to be the successful preparation of the age for these ills so common to city life—stomach trouble and its various symptoms. Every ailment of the stomach, liver, kidney and blood, is, in almost every case, immediately relieved by Plant Juice for it cleanses, reconstructs and revitalizes. Testimonials from well known local people are received daily substantiating this statement.

Mr. R. J. Sleeper, of No. 12 "C" street, who has resided in Lowell for a number of years and is in the employ of one of the largest woolen mills in the city, recently gave the following:

"I have been troubled with my stomach off and on, for the past seven years. About an hour after I ate my meals, the gas would distress me terribly, and felt as if I had a hard lump in the pit of my stomach, like lead. It pressed against my heart and at times I could hardly stand up to do my work. I would lie awake almost all night as I could not sleep. My food did not taste good to me, and in fact, I could hardly keep anything in my stomach; I had headaches, pains around my heart and lungs, dizzy spells and got very weak. Although I had tried many different kinds of medicine, none of them did me the least good, and it was only when I began to take Plant Juice that I got any real benefit. I am surprised at the result, as I can now eat my meals and have a fine appetite, sleep well and the gas is entirely eliminated from my system. Plant Juice is a fine medicine, and I am glad to endorse it."

The Plant Juice Man is at Dow's, The Druggists in Merrimack Street, where he is daily meeting the local public, and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

THE CALL OF PATRIOTISM

For young and old of this nation the hour of patriotic test has arrived. By order of the government all the male residents of the prescribed ages, from 21 to 30 years, both included, are to register in their respective polling places tomorrow. What that law demands has been explained so often that nobody can now have any excuse for not understanding its provisions quite fully. This is preliminary to the draft for service which will come later. For those of registration age, therefore, there is one plain duty—comply with the law.

In other parts of this country there are anti-draft plots which are being rigorously dealt with by the government. They are instigated chiefly by people of pro-German sympathies and by socialists who hold that no war should be declared and no conscription ordered except by a vote of the entire people on a general referendum. Opposition that tends to defeat the operation of the law is being dealt with as treason for which the extreme punishment is death.

It is to be hoped that these misguided people will see the error of making any trouble and that the law will be complied with as a patriotic duty which every citizen owes to this nation in lieu of the inevitable blessings of freedom.

That the young men of all nationalities in Lowell will do their duty cheerfully, we have no doubt. Any man found to be opposing registration will be promptly arrested and will be liable to the penalty of treason. As to the duty of those citizens and residents who will not be required to register, that also is plain. There is work to do for all. First the people in general are called upon to conserve and increase the food supply by every means in this power. This most of the people are doing as may be judged from the efforts to add to the area under tillage, the vast number of home gardens and the increased activity in the raising of poultry, cattle and pigs. But there is another demand upon the patriotism of the people and one to which they should respond promptly, and to the extent of their ability, that is, to subscribe to the "Liberty Loan." Germany and the rest of the world are watching our attitude on this question. This nation, the richest on earth, will stand disgraced if this loan be not fully subscribed when the time comes.

The money has been voted by congress and now the government undertakes to secure it by the sale of government bonds amounting to $2,000,000,000 at 3½ per cent interest. These bonds are to be uncallable and negotiable. If at any time the government issues bonds at a higher rate of interest these bonds can be exchanged for the new issue, dollar for dollar. Conditions may arise also under which these bonds may sell at a premium, viz.: that there will be such a demand for them that they will sell for more than their face value.

That investment in these bonds is a patriotic duty, may be judged by the appeal of the venerable Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore who has always been extremely cautious not to advise the people as to financial investments. But he comes out in a letter to the pastors of his diocese asking them to advise their parishioners to purchase Liberty Bonds. That is a most unusual thing for Cardinal Gibbons to do; but yet it is in line with the appeal which he issued to his people urging the most loyal support of the government in this war.

It would be absurd and cowardly to call upon the young men of the nation to fight our battles if those who remain failed to do their full duty in providing the other sinews of war equally essential. These are food, equipment and munitions. It requires money in gigantic amounts to secure what the government needs for the army, the navy and the building of ships. It is, therefore, the duty of the people to supply the government with all the money it needs. Otherwise it cannot do what it considers necessary to win the war. What will the answer be?

AUSTRIAN ATTITUDE

The emperor of Austria has made a speech to his parliament that indicates a spirit of peace so far as he may go without offending Germany. Anticipating a movement for reform resulting from the cataclysm in Russia, he promised liberal reforms. His utterances regarding peace were naturally evasive. There was no intimation of his intention as to what he would do on the Slav question. As in Germany there is a popular demand for peace but it is suppressed. Germany had been telling what she will do after defeating the Allies but she has not indulged in that policy to such a great extent of late. Apparently what both Austria and Germany want is some creditable way of making peace and thus avoiding a fight to a finish. Austria, like Germany, admits that she is tired fighting and willing to make peace, but she will not go out to seek peace.

POLITICS ABOVE PATRIOTISM

Mayor Thompson of Chicago appears to be pandering to his German constituents to such an extent that he is much more pro-German than they are. He endeavored to prevent the city council from inviting the French mission and he has opposed the solicitation of subscriptions to the Liberty Loan among city employees. He seems to think more of his political supporters than of the government. There are some other mayors of metropolitan cities, who, from political motives, are bringing suspicion upon themselves by pandering to the pro-German element in ways that betray their motives and brand them as mere policy players even while they are professing loyalty to the country—with reservations. These gentlemen who straddle the fence are angling for votes and their motives are well understood.

RECRUITING THE RESERVISTS

The reservists of the powers forming the Entente Allies will have an opportunity to enlist under the flags of their respective countries. There are many of them enjoying freedom in this country without meeting any of the obligations to defend that freedom or to aid their native countries in the battle against autocracy. They will be given an opportunity. Congress having passed an act authorizing the Allies to conduct recruiting here, among their subjects, a recruiting agency has been opened by the British authorities in New York. They will recruit men between the ages of 18 and 50 years. Doubtless the French and Italian governments will also avail themselves of the law to seek recruits here.

COLLEGE STUDENTS ARRESTED

Inasmuch as the college students of the country have shown splendid loyalty in support of the government, it is to be regretted that young people from different colleges have been detected in the act of distributing literature opposing the military draft and the progress of the war. Some people wonder why they have been arrested but the cause is obvious. They were found to be disturbers. They were not in the class with Emma Goldman, perhaps, but they were practicing treason which is the Goldman woman's profession. Why she has not been driven out of the country long ago is a mystery.

STRIKE THREATENED

The Brotherhood of Railroad Station Employees of the Boston & Maine railroad, 2399 in number, are to go out on strike next Thursday unless they get an increase of 25 cents a day. This is a bad time to declare a railroad strike. President Gompers has stated that labor would not embarrass the government by strikes. He should use his influence here to prevent trouble. The Boston & Maine railroad is in the hands of a receiver and not in a condition to meet new financial demands.

CITY'S BUSINESS NEGLECTED

The aldermen who keep the city before the courts during the greater part of their incumbency are not promoting the city's best interests. Legal controversies that might have been avoided by the exercise of intelligence in observing the provisions of the charter, give the city a great deal of very damaging notoriety. This needless litigation for the removal of officials is causing the city's business to be lost sight of during the season in which it should receive most earnest attention.

PRESS CENSORSHIP

The press censorship matter goes back to the conference committee. There is no attempt to gag the press on news that can be published without detriment to the cause for which we are at war. Judging from the bitterness of certain newspapers and their willingness to manufacture false charges against the administration, some measure is necessary to keep their enmity within reasonable bounds. Decent newspapers need no censorship supervision. For the others it is imperative.

STILL AT IT

The Boston Herald is still keeping up its crusade against the administration at Washington. Almost daily it has a ridiculous and untruthful tirade against some of the democratic officials. The Herald editor has never been able to see that the call of patriotism is above party politics. If he did, he would surely cease to wallow in the political mire. But water never rises above its own level.

EXODUS OF NEGROES

The state of Georgia is stirred over the exodus of negroes to other states, principally to the north. If Georgia had treated the negro residents with fairness, they would not be so ready to seek more hospitable climates. The negro hangings in that state will be less numerous in the future as the subjects will be scarce.

Kansas seems to be the hotbed of the anti-draft plotters. Already fifteen of them have been arrested. The government should make an example of the men who undertake to oppose it at every step.

You may be too old or too young to register but not to buy a "Liberty Bond." The purchase of these bonds is a patriotic duty.

Seen and Heard

Some people are apparently so anxious to give the devil his due that they enormously overdo it.

The man who tries to please everybody has no thought, of course, of trying to please himself.

The man who tells everybody that he is a wise guy must expect to be caught and told by everybody that he isn't a safe guide.

The man who is always ready to admit it when he finds that he is in the wrong thinks that that is the next thing to being right.

Perhaps you can find some consolation in the thought that if your friends should send back to you the books that they have borrowed you might have to buy another book case.

After the amateur gardener has planted potatoes, and hoed them, and pulled them, and kept them free from weeds, and sprayed them, and picked off the bugs, and watched the potatoes grow, and dug them, and tugged them too much respect for them to speak of them as spuds.

It Was An Awful Shame

Willie's mother gave him two pennies, one for sweets, the other for the collection in Sunday school. On his way to school he dropped both. One disappeared down a cellar grating. Seeing it was gone beyond recall, he looked at the one in his hand, then into the darkness, and said: "It's an awful shame, but there goes the Lord's penny."—Liverpool Post.

How Remarkable Explode

The most remarkable phenomenon connected with tornadoes is the explosion of houses, which literally burst, scattering their fragments in all directions. Sometimes substantial dwellings are carried high into the air and then explode. It is now understood that this is due to the fact that the "funnel cloud" (revolving at a rate of at least 500 miles an hour) has a vacuum inside. Thus it sucks up everything, in its path, even emptying wells. It sucks all the air from around a house over which it passes, and the house (a vacuum being thus created outside of it) promptly explodes, owing to the pressure of the air at thirty pounds to the square inch, from within.

The house, in a word, is transformed into a bomb.—Philadelphia Press.

And Lived Happily Ever After

mander-in-chief of the forces engaged in the successful hospital campaign, told a story at the dinner the night the final reports were made that involved a prominent member of the general committee. This man, it appears, has been married for a number of years and it is well known among their friends that they have never had any great difference of opinion. Mr. Leach said he asked this gentleman how he managed it.

"Well," said the committee member, "when my wife and I were married we agreed that I would settle all the big things and she would decide all the small matters."

Mr. Leach said he asked how it was, even under such an arrangement, that no disputes had arisen.

"It's this way," the man in question is alleged to have answered. "There have never been any big things to decide."

The Cost of Living

The cost of living's very high. And jumping all the time. For what a nickel used to buy you have to pay a dime. All luxuries are out of sight. And people run in debt. For necessities that they think they really have to get.

Each day we see things getting worse. And wonder when it will stop. And if the time will ever come when prices will drop.

The men who put the prices up. It's right hard to forgive. The cost of living's very high—yet somehow we all live.

Kid's Head Not So Little

He's a merry little cherub, a bit more plump than most laddies who are within hailing distance of their third birthday, also somewhat unsteady on his legs. Because of the latter trait he skidded while making the distance from the kitchen to the dining room not long ago and cracked his head against the timber, discovering to his sorrow that a head usually fares worst in such collisions.

The gash in his forehead kept the youth indoors for some days. And of course it had to be "brute and fare" weather, with an ice cream cart passing nearly every afternoon.

Neither changed to be upstairs when the ice cream man's song sent him racing to the window one afternoon. He gulped, then waved jubilantly to neighbors who were passing.

"See! See!" he called. "I've seen a man!" It yielded only a friendly nod. "But I wanna ice cream. Get me one," he commanded.

The cart had passed by this time, but the neighbor, by sprinting, managed to overtake it and presently was back with an overflowing cone. The kid took it and devoted himself to the task of putting it under his rompers without further formality. It simply bears out a theory of mine that most heads are not solid bone, contrary to popular belief," said the neighbor. "Exhibit A, the fact that his head didn't dent the wood-work; exhibit B, he knew what he wanted and he got it."

MORTALITY OF LOWELL

The Sun reaches the people who earn their money in Lowell and spend it in Lowell stores. It pays to advertise in The Sun, Lowell's greatest newspaper.

Girls! Use Lemons!

Make a Bleaching, Beautifying Cream

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier. Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is simply marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

The Sun is conducting this column with the co-operation of the National Emergency Food Garden Commission, to inspire the planting of more food gardens throughout the country. You should watch this column every day. Any questions should be written on one side of the paper and sent to the Garden Editor of The Sun.

THE CUCUMBER

The cucumber grower has more to fight to battle with than diseases to cure, says today's bulletin from the national emergency food garden commission, co-operating with this newspaper in a campaign for more food gardens and against waste.

Diseases prevalent among other garden vegetables, seldom attack cucumbers, though if the plants are not protected from disease-carrying insects they may become victim to any of the garden diseases.

Anthraxnose, downy mildew, and wilt are fatal diseases. Infected vines should be burned. Anthraxnose and mildew are fungous diseases and can be cured by spraying. The first symptoms of anthraxnose are brown spots on the leaves. Downy mildew appears in yellow spots. For both diseases, spray with bordeaux mixture, first when the plants have begun to form vines and later after the first blossoms have faded. Repeat the spraying in two weeks, and then two weeks after that. Some gardeners spray for mildew and anthraxnose as long as the crop lasts.

Insects attack both the leaves and roots of cucumbers. The striped beetle, spotted beetle and flea beetle are chewing insects that feed upon the leaves. The vine borer is a worm, which bores into the vine at the surface of the ground. When the vine borer enters itself, the vine must be cut open lengthwise and the worm removed and killed. Earth should be thrown over the vines every few feet so that new roots will form at those places.

The beetles, although they are very destructive, are not so formidable an enemy as the borer, as they can be dealt with in the open and are easily exterminated, doing no permanent injury to the vines.

A good arrangement to fence bugs out of the cucumber plants is a mosquito net stretched over each plant and held up by a half hoop. An excellent way to keep these parasites from young plants is to cover them with pieces of netting, keeping the edges of the material covered with two inches of soil and let this remain until the plant begins to run.

U. S. DESTROYER HITS FREIGHT STEAMER

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The destroyer Ammen put into Charlestown navy yard yesterday, the navy department announces, with a slightly damaged bow as a result of a collision with the American freight steamer Herman Frisch, a 2300-ton ship, in a fog off Nantucket lightship early Saturday morning. The freight steamer Herman Frisch, which was in collision with the destroyer Ammen Saturday morning, arrived at a New England port yesterday. The captain reported that the bow of the destroyer denied some of the bow plates of his vessel above the water line and damaged the bridge. A section of rail 100 feet in length was torn away by the destroyer's anchor, which was left aboard the freighter through the breaking of its cable. The destroyer stood by until assured that the steamer was able to proceed.

LOWELL ALL READY FOR WAR REGISTRATION

At a conference held at city hall this morning between the mayor, the chief of police and the board of registrars, final preparations for registration day tomorrow were discussed. Supt. Welch announced that the officers who are to be on duty during the hours of registration have volunteered their services at the various booths. The booths will open at 7 a. m. and will remain open until 9 p. m. or later if the demand requires it. The list of booths for registration is the same as that of the booths for election, but in order that there may be no misunderstanding on that point have volunteered their services

To Draft From 900,000 to 1,500,000 Men at Once For The First Army of 625,000

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Plans of the war department to draft from 900,000 to 1,500,000 men of the 10,000,000 who, it is estimated will register tomorrow for the new army were disclosed today by Provost Marshal General Crowder to the senate military affairs committee. Exemptions, he said, probably would result in reducing the number to 625,000 men for immediate service.

While the war department had originally planned to select 300,000 men, Gen. Crowder told the committee the plans have been revised and it now is proposed to require 625,000. To secure this number, he said, it probably will be necessary to draft at least 900,000 and possibly 1,500,000 because of expected exemptions. Gen. Crowder told the committee the additional 125,000 will be needed to fill up vacancies in the army of 500,000 and to keep training camps in continuous operation. When the original plans for service from a half million men were made, he said, the department had not planned to send American forces abroad so soon. Casualties from foreign service, he believed, sickness, etc., make necessary a reserve of 125,000 men.

Gen. Crowder told the committee he favored immediate drafting of men registering rather than postponement of the draft for several weeks after registration. He regards it desirable that men drafted may know and can have a few weeks to make their personal arrangements before being called to the colors.

Details of making exemptions also were explained to the committee by the provost marshal general. He said the government does not contemplate any class exemptions, but that all will be personal. Farmers, factory operatives and other special classes would not be exempted as such, nor territorially, but all exemption will be made individually.

The men drafted probably will be in training camps by Sept. 1, Gen. Crowder said, and he added that he favored beginning selections within two weeks after registration so that exemption work may be expedited and notifications of final selections may be as soon thereafter as possible.

Intense Excitement in Russian Capital—Vast Fire Followed By Explosion at Gutuyeff—Ceaseless Counter Attacks By Germans on Western Front

There seems ample evidence that the Germans were prepared to go almost any length at present in sacrifices of men to hold the situation on the western front in hand.

Sanguinary Repulse

Along the line held by the French the effort is taking the form of almost ceaseless counter-attacks, both in the Aisne region and in the Champagne. Although suffering a sanguinary repulse on Sunday in repeated attacks on the Valenciennes and Calonne plateaux they made a new thrust last night further west near Verdun, along the Chemin-des-Dominont plateau. The Paris report shows this to have had some measure of success, the crown prince's troops forcing their way into some advanced French positions.

The British on their front have not been so frequently counter-attacked, but whenever recently they have saved an advance they have evidently found dense masses of Germans opposing them. Today's British official statement does not mention any further

CHILD KILLED BY AUTO IN MOODY STREET

Kyriakoula Patriarches, aged 12 years and living at 696 Merrimack street, was knocked down, run over and killed by an automobile operated by Dewey G. Archambault, in Moody street, near the corner of Cabot street, shortly before nine o'clock this morning. The ambulance was summoned but upon its arrival, finding that the child was dead, the body was removed to the undertaking rooms of Mr. Archambault and later taken to those of Undertaker Napoleon Bilodeau, 713 Merrimack street.

Traffic Officer Edward P. Flanagan who was in the vicinity at the time, after seeing that the child's body was cared for, accompanied Mr. Archambault to the police station where the latter gave his version of the accident to Supt. Welch and he was released under $2000 bonds for his appearance in police court tomorrow morning.

According to young Archambault, the driver of the automobile, he was conveying a bride party from the church to the house where the reception was to be held. He was going up Moody street and when near the corner of Cabot street he noticed the approach of a heavy automobile truck. When almost abreast of the truck a child ran out from the rear of the machine and by prompt manipulation of the steering wheel he avoided striking the child. The Patriarches child, who was also behind the truck, ran out immediately afterwards and before Archambault could make another shift the front wheel of his automobile struck the child, knocked her down and ran over her.

Stopping his machine he picked up the child and word was sent for the ambulance but the child was either instantly killed or died a few minutes after being struck by the machine.

Upon learning of the accident Supt. Welch of the police department assigned Sergt. Maguire and Officer Flanagan to secure the details.

GUARDSMEN MUST REGISTER

CONCORD, N. H., June 4.—Gov. Henry W. Keyes in his registration day proclamation takes the ground that the proclamation of President Wilson must be construed literally and that under it all National guardsmen not in federal service should register. The only New Hampshire unit now in federal service is the Portsmouth coast artillery company and the governor believes that all other National guardsmen in this state should register. If they did not do so, he adds, registration officials

SEVEN INDICTED IN DRAFT PLOT

NEW YORK, June 4.—Six men and a woman today were indicted by the federal grand jury on the charge of conspiring to obstruct the selective draft law by distributing anti-conscription literature.

The first coup was composed of Owen Cattell and Charles R. Phillips, Columbia students, and Eleanor Wilson Parker, Barnard student. They were taken in custody last Thursday.

The second group was composed of four men arrested the same day at a peace meeting in Madison Square garden while distributing circulars advertising a meeting of the no-conscription league.

SOME BALL TOSSEY

"I'll bet you ten dollars, I can throw a ball over the sun."

"I'll take that bet," said a man who broke in as another uttered this opening remark.

"Well, why didn't you let me finish, before you butted in," said the party of the first call.

Number two came back and said: "I'll admit you are some thrower, but I could not stand here and let you get away with that statement. I'll take the bet and there's my coin, producing a crisp ten spot. I know that I am safe in shoving this and do not feel that I'll be taxed for carrying around too large a roll."

Number one said: "You're some sport, to take up a bet that a man cannot heave a ball over the sun, and though this is the only thing that separates me from the bread line, I think that I'd risk taking up such a bet myself."

"You were so anxious to double that bet that you didn't give me a chance. What I was attempting to say was that I would bet that I could throw a ball over the sun building. Now if you're game take up the bet."

"You're on, I'll take it," and the bet was made.

Up to the time of going to press, however, the performance had not been pulled off.

LOWELL BOY ORDAINED PRIEST AT ROME

The many friends of Thomas F. Markham, son of James and Nora Markham of 12 Burns street, will be pleased to hear that he was ordained to the priesthood in Rome, Italy, June 2. Thomas F. Markham is a graduate of Holy Cross, class of 1913. He was to Rome in October, 1915, and while the course there is a five-year one, the Lowell boy covered the ground in four years. He is a young man of exceptional talent and has always been a great student. His old home is in St. Peter's parish, the members of which will remember him as an altar boy. He is a graduate of the Edison school and of the Lowell high, where he was an officer in the battalion. While St. Peter's parish has sent a good many young men to the priesthood, including Cardinal O'Connell, Thomas F. Markham was one of the few to be ordained in Rome, north of the walls of the Vatican. This is a distinction and is in keeping with his scholarly attainments. He will remain in Rome for another year for perfection of special study.

RECORDS OF REGISTRATIONS

COURT PUTS THOMAS AND FOYE BACK IN OFFICE

Hearings were held in Boston at 10 o'clock this morning before Judge Loring of the supreme judicial court on a motion made by Edward H. Foye, Robert J. Thomas and Andrew G. Stiles, purchasing agent, superintendent of the water works and city treasurer, respectively, through their attorneys, Quia, Howard and Rogers, for writs of mandamus to issue pursuant to the decision of the full bench of the supreme court recently rendered.

After arguments by Lawyer Quia and City Solicitor William D. Regan, the latter representing a majority of the municipal council, the courts ordered the writs to issue forthwith in favor of Thomas and Foye and of an execution for costs to be issued against the respondents. In the Stiles case in view of the fact that the municipal council recently voted to remove him a second time after an alleged hearing, Judge Loring ordered that the first petition be dismissed without prejudice, however, to Stiles' right to bring another petition to test the legality of the second removal. The court also ordered that the respondents pay the costs of the Stiles case.

City Solicitor Regan had filed a petition for a stay of judgment in the latter case.

$60,000 CASE AGAINST OLD LOWELL BANK

The case of John F. Sawyer, administrator with the will annexed of the estate of Sarah R. Spalding vs. the Old Lowell National bank, an action of contract, the ad damnum of which is $60,000, went to trial at the civil session of the superior court with Jury this morning at the local court house, with Justice Norton presiding.

This is a rather interesting case inasmuch as it is claimed that the will of Sarah R. Spalding was lost or kept in a vault at the Old Lowell National bank and that the money of the estate was distributed to the children, who were not mentioned in the will. The will was later found and although efforts were made to recover the money distributed, the entire sum could not be recovered and accordingly the suit for damages.

The plaintiff in his declaration states that Sarah R. Spalding deposited a box or tin trunk containing her last will in a vault of the Old Lowell Nat. bank. Miss Spalding died April 6, 1902, and after a lapse of a reasonable interval of time the will was not found. On May 27, 1902, Charles H. Coburn was appointed administrator by the probate court and he and his attorney, J. Gilbert Hill, visited the bank and received boxes belonging to Sarah R. Spalding, but the box containing the will was not recovered. The administrator distributed among the next of kin the sum of $28,803.27 and on June 7, 1905 the final account was allowed by the probate court.

In the early part of Feb. 1910, the box containing the will was produced but the administrator named in the will had previously deceased, and John F. Sawyer was appointed and it was found that none of the next of kin named in the will had been notified. Diligent efforts were made to recover back amounts paid, but the administrator has been unable to recover the whole and accordingly the legatees named in the will suffered heavy loss. The plaintiff claims the loss is due to the breach of the defendant's implied obligation.

The defendant makes a general denial of the charges and further states that the cause of action as set out in the plaintiff's writ and declaration accrued more than six years prior to the date of the plaintiff's suit and therefore the plaintiff is not entitled to recover.

F. E. Dunbar appears for the plaintiff and James J. Kerwin and James C. Reilly for the defendant. The first witness called was John F. Sawyer, the plaintiff, who stated he is treasurer and trustee of the Lowell General hospital, one of the legatees in the will, and also cashier of the Union National bank. He said he was informed of the finding of Miss Spalding's will at the Old Lowell National bank after he had received his appointment as administrator of the estate and after taking possession of the will he sent it to the probate court. He received the will March 17, 1910, from the late Charles M. Williams, at that time president of the Old Lowell National bank. The tin box was produced and attention of the jury was called to the name of Miss Spalding scratched on the cover and bottom of the box. Continuing Mr. Sawyer said he has made efforts to recover the property distributed by the administrator in New Hampshire and New York and as a result the sum of $28,803.27 was recovered in the state of New Hampshire.

and $3948.73 in the state of New York. There was real estate under the will which had not been disposed of, and Mr. Sawyer sold it and has now on hand about $10,000.

New Hampshire Attorney

A. M. Wilson, an attorney from Manchester, N. H., told of being retained by Mr. Sawyer to recover money in Manchester, N. H., and as a result of his efforts he obtained from the court the sum of $4953.51 on account. He said an execution is now being taken out for the balance. He also stated that his expenses in the collection of the money amounted to $573.76. On cross-examination, Mr. Wilson said that

WANTS SALOONS CLOSED TOMORROW, DRAFT DAY

BOSTON, June 4.—Gov. McCall, in a statement today urged all liquor dealers in this state to close their saloons tomorrow, Draft day, as on election days.

"Tomorrow the voting places in every election district in the country will be thronged by those seeking to enroll themselves as required by the proclamation of the president of the United States," Gov. McCall said. "Conditions will be precisely similar to those which prevail on election days. A large number of young men will assemble in every community."

"Our state law prohibits the sale or delivery of liquor on election days but it makes no provision for an occasion so extraordinary as the enrollment of young men for military service. If power were vested in me I should order the enforcement of all the provisions of law regarding intoxicating liquors that apply on election day but in the absence of any such authority I can only sincerely hope and strongly urge that all men throughout the state who deal in liquor will feel it their duty to observe all the conditions of law applicable on election days."

WOBURN HIGH TRIMS BRAVES LOWELL HIGH VERY POOR GAME

Failure to hit Connolly, loose fielding and costly errors were responsible for the defeat of the Lowell high school team by Woburn high by a score of 4 to 0, at Woburn, Saturday afternoon. Isherwood pitched a good game for Lowell, but the work of Connolly was made off his delivery. He succeeded in striking out six men, while Isherwood sent three to the tall timbers. McGuire played a fast fielding game for the Woburn high. The score:

BELLEVUE A. C. DEFEATED

The Lawrence Mfg. Co. defeated the Bellevue A. C. by a score of 15 to 3 in a one-sided game on the Alton Street playgrounds Saturday afternoon. The history boys won the game in the first inning when they sent five of their members across the plate. In the third inning with the score 12 to 2 in favor of the Lawrence history the latter let up on their opponents. Allen of the winning team was the star performer of the contest, making four hits and scoring four of the runs made.

TWO BATTING RALLIES GAVE DETROIT VICTORY

DETROIT, Mich., June 4.—Two spectacular batting rallies yesterday gave Detroit a 5 to 4 victory over New York. This was the play-off of a postponed game. Boland, who never has been beaten by the Yankees, pitched the first five innings and his delivery. In the fifth after Hendricks muffed Viti's foul fly, Viti got a base hit and Bush drove in two runs with a timely single. Bush's triple scored Bush to the seventh. The winning runs were made in the eighth on successive hits by Burns, Viti and Spencer. The score:

er's average is .346. George Stiel, St. Louis, who was giving Speaker a fight for the lead two weeks ago, has fallen to sixteenth place. Chapman, Cleveland, maintains his position as the leading average hitter and base stealer, having 25 sacrifice hits to his credit and 13 stolen bases. Ty Cobb has stolen ten bases. Honors for runs scored remain in the possession of Weaver, Chicago, who has 28. Bupp, New York, has replaced Bodie Phillips as the leading home run hitter, having driven out three. Boston is leading in team batting with an average of .249. The averages include games of last Wednesday.

BATTING AVERAGES IN THE MAJOR LEAGUES

CHICAGO, June 4.—Jack Smith, St. Louis, again showing the way to National League batting averages, according to unofficial averages released today. Smith, after being displaced for a week by Burns, New York, is out in front with an average of .365, although Ruth, a Chicago pitcher, is leading .409 for 37 games. Smith has served in 28. Major Chicago, and Grob, Cincinnati, have become the leaders in runs scored, each having crossed the plate 24 times. Zeider, Chicago, tops the base stealers with 10 and Whitely, Philadelphia, and Doyle, Chicago, tied in sacrifice hitting with 12 each. Whitely, Philadelphia, still is leading in home runs, having driven out six. The averages include games of last Wednesday.

Leading hitters for 15 or more games: Ruth, Chicago, .409; J. Smith, St. Louis, .365; Roush, Cincinnati, .347; Grob, Cincinnati, .344; Bupp, New York, .341; Kauff, New York, .333; Fischer, Pittsburgh, .332; Griffith, Cincinnati, .326; Whitely, Boston, .321.

"Steady" McInnis, Philadelphia, is creeping up on Tied Speaker for batting honors in the American league, eight points separating them. Speaker's average is .346.

GOOD GAME SATURDAY AT SPALDING PARK

The undefeated C.M.A.C. and Broadway Social club teams met at Spalding park Saturday afternoon and battled for the championship of the city, the former team with the assistance of Constantineau winning by a score of 6 to 2. The game was well contested throughout but timey hitting on the part of the winning aggregation had much to do with the victory. Constantineau, the star southpaw of the C.M.A.C., succeeded in striking out 12 of the men who faced him, allowing but four hits.

The C.M.A.C. got a poor start and failed anything but good ball in the first two innings, but then they steadied down and the Broadway failed to do any scoring after the second session. The score:

LOCAL BALL TEAMS ARE IN FOR BIG YEAR

This season looks like one of the best on record for the local amateur ball teams. The fact that the city is not represented in any league gives the boys from the lots a great chance to come to the front and, needless to say, they are taking advantage of the opportunity.

Probably never before has there been so many good teams. Every section of the city is represented by a very fast aggregation, and it looks like a great battle for the championship.

Pitts' South Ends, the present champions, while without the services of several of the players who brought the title to the South common entry, are again a strong contender for the high honors. The loss of O'Day and Freeman has made a great hole in the former team, but they have secured some very good men to take their places.

While the Ottawas and the Kimball System teams started out independently, they have now consolidated under the name of the Kimball System, and as Paul Clark, manager of the Kimballs, has resigned, Lowell Hammer, who directed the Ottawas will act as manager for the Kimball System. Fred Greely, two good twirlers, will do the mound work for the team, and as the best players of both combinations have been retained, the team looks good. Paul Clark will undoubtedly catch on with some other team, for he is a good player, and a very aggressive leader.

The remarkable pitching of Constantineau places the C.M.A.C. team in line, and if this clever southpaw continues his effective work, this team will have to be watched. Already it has made a record of the city's best teams, and all victories were attributed to the box work of "Connie." He is without doubt one of the best twirlers in Lowell, and the present first place of the C.M.A.C. team is a credit to his pitching, and the C.M.A.C. promises to be one of the teams to have a claim on the title.

"Connie" resigned, manager of the Broadway team, has succeeded in organizing a fine club, and the record to date shows that the North common boys will have something to say when they challenge the Kimball System. Desmond is a good player and an exceptionally good leader, and has succeeded in injecting considerable "pop" into his team.

The Bleachery team has started off well, and has a chance to cop the honors. The Lawrence Mfg. Co. and the Bellevue are also among the city's leading teams. Both have good early season records. The Bellevue defeated the South Ends on the holiday, and showed their batting prowess in the game. Whitely, Philadelphia, still is leading in home runs, having driven out six. The averages include games of last Wednesday.

Leading hitters for 15 or more games: Ruth, Chicago, .409; J. Smith, St. Louis, .365; Roush, Cincinnati, .347; Grob, Cincinnati, .344; Bupp, New York, .341; Kauff, New York, .333; Fischer, Pittsburgh, .332; Griffith, Cincinnati, .326; Whitely, Boston, .321.

"Steady" McInnis, Philadelphia, is creeping up on Tied Speaker for batting honors in the American league, eight points separating them. Speaker's average is .346.

THE K. OF C. OPEN THEIR SUMMER CAMP

The formal opening of the summer camp of Lowell council, Knights of Columbus, at Tyngsboro, took place yesterday afternoon, and about 400 members were present to enjoy the program arranged for the day. A feature of the exercises was the raising of a very American flag, which Mayor James E. O'Donnell was the principal speaker. During the day State Deputy Daniel J. Gallagher of Boston spoke and Rev. W. George Mullin, who has been chaplain of the council for several years, addressed the members for the last time in his capacity as their spiritual director, for he left today for his new pastorate at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Manchester-by-the-Sea.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Deputy Grand Knight Charles J. Landers called the members together and after making a brief address of welcome turned the meeting over to Lecturer Walter H. Hickey. The call to the colors was played by Corporal James H. Buckley, and while the gathering sang "The Star Spangled Banner" a squad of members of the Quincey Machine Gun company raised the Old Glory to the breeze. Mayor O'Donnell delivered a stirring address on the flag, what it stands for and what it means to us all.

After dinner the members gathered in front of the clubhouse and listened to a talk by State Deputy Gallagher, who was presented by Grand Knight Robert R. Thomas. The speaker dwelt at considerable length on the happy and useful life of the order, and concluded by emphasizing as strongly as possible the importance of everyone doing his part in the present crisis. He urged members between the ages of 21 and 31 years to be sure to register his name on Tuesday next and to show the same spirit that has invariably characterized the members of the order in the past by giving their best efforts to the cause of their country and flag.

Rev. Mr. Mullin expressed the disappointment and regret it gave him to separate himself from such a gathering of men, and concluded by expressing the hope that in the not distant future the members of the order would be able to hold a personal call from all at his new field of labor at the Church of the Sacred Heart at Manchester-by-the-Sea. The committee on entertainment consisted of the club house and social secretary, Deputy Grand Knight Robert R. Thomas, Lecturer Walter H. Hickey, Warden Thomas B. Delaney, Sergeant John C. Dwyer, John H. Stapleton, John Clancy, D. Martin, George O'Malley, M. Andrew Molloy, Treasurer Thos. J. Fitzgerald and John Flynn.

LOWELL DRIVING CLUB

The first matinee program of the season was held at the Golden Cove trotting track in Chelmsford Centre Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the Lowell Driving club and many lovers of horse racing were present and enjoyed a good list of events. Sterling K captured the class A trot in 1:20, 1:21, 1:17.

HELD FLAG RAISING

On Saturday evening the local Italian San Antonio society held a flag raising at its hall in Chapel street. Among the speakers were Mayor O'Donnell, Chief of Police Welch, Vincent Marotta, president of the society, Giacomo Mura and Forand D'Arzoz. After the flag raising, exercises were held in the hall and a fine patriotic program carried out.

NEW RECRUITING SCHEME

The manager of the World of Pleasure, Lakeview avenue, George W. Westerman, is also getting into the game, and he has put up to Capt. George M. Downes of the Quincey Machine Gun company a brand new proposition. This is nothing more nor less than to allot space for a recruiting stand on the showgrounds midway and give the absolutely free of charge to the first man who enlists at the circus, and who is accepted. Capt. Downes intends to take up the offer and appoint a committee to take charge of the stand, which will be placed on display in one of the down-town windows. Incidentally, it may be mentioned.

Since the introduction of "Neutrone Prescription 99" Rheumatic sufferers no longer fear the changeable winter weather. This new combination has many heretofore incurable on its relieved list.

"Neutrone Prescription 99" is different from other remedies in that it treats rheumatism as a disease of the blood and by its general action eliminating rheumatic conditions. Its effect is immediate as well as lasting without any depressing after effects.

The whole system is braced, inflamed, stiff and aches in joints dislodge where other remedies have failed.

It helps Nature restore the blood to its natural healthy condition in its positive action, re-supplying what Nature fails to supply fast enough. Mail orders filled. 50c and $1.00 the bottle.

THE CALL OF PATRIOTISM

For young and old of this nation the hour of patriotic test has arrived. By order of the government all the male residents of the prescribed ages, from 21 to 30 years, both included, are to register in their respective polling places tomorrow. What that law demands has been explained so often that nobody can now have any excuse for not understanding its provisions quite fully. This is preliminary to the draft for service which will come later. For those of registration age, therefore, there is one plain duty—comply with the law.

In other parts of this country there are anti-draft plots which are being rigorously dealt with by the government. They are instigated chiefly by people of pro-German sympathies and by socialists who hold that no war should be declared and no conscription ordered except by a vote of the entire people on a general referendum. Opposition that tends to defeat the operation of the law is being dealt with as treason for which the extreme punishment is death.

It is to be hoped that these misguided people will see the error of making any trouble and that the law will be complied with as a patriotic duty which every citizen owes to this nation in lieu of the ineffable blessings of freedom.

That the young men of all nationalities in Lowell will do their duty cheerfully, we have no doubt. Any man found to be opposing registration will be promptly arrested and will be liable to the penalty of treason. As to the duty of those citizens and residents who will not be required to register, that also is plain. There is work to do for all. First the people in general are called upon to conserve and increase the food supply by every means in this power. This most of the people are doing as may be judged from the efforts to add to the area under tillage, the vast number of home gardens and the increased activity in the raising of poultry, cattle and pigs. But there is another demand upon the patriotism of the people and one to which they should respond promptly, and to the extent of their ability, that is, to subscribe to the "Liberty Loan." Germany and the rest of the world are watching our attitude on this question. This nation, the richest on earth, will stand disgraced if this loan be not fully subscribed when the time comes.

The money has been voted by congress and now the government undertakes to secure it by the sale of government bonds amounting to $2,000,000,000 at 3 1/2 per cent interest. These bonds are to be untaxable and negotiable. If at any time the government issues bonds at a higher rate of interest these bonds can be exchanged for the new issue, dollar for dollar. Conditions may arise also under which these bonds may sell at a premium, viz.: that there will be such a demand for them that they will sell for more than their face value.

That investment in these bonds is a patriotic duty, may be judged by the appeal of the venerable Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore who has always been extremely cautious not to advise the people as to financial investments. But he comes out in a letter to the pastor of his diocese asking them to advise their parishioners to purchase Liberty Bonds. That is a most unusual thing for Cardinal Gibbons to do; but yet it is in line with the appeal which he issued to his people urging the most loyal support of the government in this war.

It would be absurd and cowardly to call upon the young men of the nation to fight our battles if those who remain failed to do their full duty in providing the other sinews of war equally essential. These are food, equipment and munitions. It requires money in gigantic amounts to secure what the government needs for the army, the navy and the building of ships. It is, therefore, the duty of the people to supply the government with all the money it needs. Otherwise it cannot do what it considers necessary to win the war. What will the answer be?

AUSTRIAN ATTITUDE

The emperor of Austria has made a speech to his parliament that indicates a spirit of peace so far as he may go without offending Germany. Anticipating a movement for reform resulting from the cataclysm in Russia, he promised liberal reforms. His utterances regarding peace were naturally evasive. There was no intimation of his intention as to what he would do on the Slav question. As in Germany there is a popular demand for peace but it is suppressed. Germany had been telling what she would do after defeating the Allies but she has not indulged in that policy to such a great extent of late. Apparently what both Austria and Germany want is some creditable way of making peace and thus avoiding a fight to a finish. Austria, like Germany, admits that she is tired fighting and willing to make peace, but she will not go out to seek peace.

POLITICS ABOVE PATRIOTISM

are. He endeavored to prevent the city council from inviting the French mission and he has opposed the solicitation of subscriptions to the Liberty Loan among city employees. He seems to think more of his political supporters than of the government. There are some other mayors of metropolitan cities, who, from political motives, are bringing suspicion upon themselves by pandering to the pro-German element in ways that betray their motives and brand them as mere policy players even while they are professing loyalty to the country—with reservations. These gentlemen who straddle the fence are angling for votes and their motives are well understood.

RECRUITING THE RESERVISTS

The reservists of the powers forming the Entente Allies will have an opportunity to enlist under the flags of their respective countries. There are many of them enjoying freedom in this country without meeting any of the obligations to defend that freedom or to aid their native countries in the battle against autocracy. They will be given an opportunity. Congress having passed an act authorizing the Allies to conduct recruiting here among their subjects, a recruiting agency has been opened by the British authorities in New York. They will recruit men between the ages of 18 and 50 years. Doubtless the French and Italian governments will also avail themselves of the law to seek recruits here.

COLLEGE STUDENTS ARRESTED

Inasmuch as the college students of the country have shown splendid loyalty in support of the government, it is to be regretted that young people from different colleges have been detected in the act of distributing literature opposing the military draft and the progress of the war. Some people wonder why they have been arrested but the cause is obvious. They were found to be disturbers. They are not in the class with Emma Goldman, perhaps, but they were practicing treason which is the Goldman woman's profession. Why she has not been driven out of the country long ago is a mystery.

STRIKE THREATENED

The Brotherhood of Railroad Station Employees of the Boston & Maine railroad, 2300 in number, are to go out on strike next Thursday unless they get an increase of 25 cents a day. This is a bad time to declare a railroad strike. President Gompers has stated that labor would not embarrass the government by strikes. He should use his influence here to prevent trouble. The Boston & Maine railroad is in the hands of a receiver and not in a condition to meet new financial demands.

CITY'S BUSINESS NEGLECTED

The aldermen who keep the city before the courts during the greater part of their incumbency are not promoting the city's best interests. Legal controversies that might have been avoided by the exercise of intelligence in observing the provisions of the charter, give the city a great deal of very damaging notoriety. This needless litigation for the removal of officials is causing the city's business to be lost sight of during the season in which it should receive most earnest attention.

PRESS CENSORSHIP

The press censorship matter goes back to the conference committee. There is no attempt to gag the press on news that can be published without detriment to the cause for which we are at war. Judging from the bitterness of certain newspapers and their willingness to manufacture false charges against the administration, some measure is necessary to keep their sanity within reasonable bounds. Decent newspapers need no censorship supervision. For the others it is imperative.

STILL AT IT

The Boston Herald is still keeping up its crusade against the administration at Washington. Almost daily it has a ridiculous and untruthful tirade against some of the democratic officials. The Herald editor has never been able to see that the call of patriotism is above party politics. If he did, he would surely cease to wallow in the political mire. But water never rises above its own level.

EXODUS OF NEGROES

The state of Georgia is stirred over the exodus of negroes to other states, principally to the north. If Georgia had treated the negro residents with fairness, they would not be so ready to seek more hospitable climes. The negro languages in that state will be less numerous in the future as the subjects will be scarce.

Kansas seems to be the hotbed of the anti-draft plotters. Already fifteen of them have been arrested. The government should make an example of the men who undertake to oppose it at every step.

You may be too old or too young to register but not to buy a "Liberty Bond." The purchase of these bonds is a patriotic duty.

Seen and Heard

Some people are apparently so anxious to give the devil his due that they enormously overdo it.

The man who tries to please everybody has no thought, of course, of trying to please himself.

The man who tells everybody that he is a wise guy must expect to be gazed and told by everybody that he isn't a safe guide.

The man who is always ready to admit it when he finds that he is in the wrong thinks that that is the next thing to being right.

Perhaps you can find some consolation in the thought that if your friends should send back to you the books that they have borrowed you might have to buy another book case.

After the amateur gardener has planted potatoes, and hoed them, and killed them, and kept them free from weeds, and sprayed them, and picked off the bugs, and watched the potatoes grow, and dug them, and lugged them into the cellar, he will have acquired too much respect for them to speak of them as spuds.

It Was An Awful Shame

Willie's mother gave him two pennies, one for sweets, the other for the collection in Sunday school. On his way to school he dropped both. One disappeared down a cellar grating. Seeing it was gone beyond recall, he looked at the one in his hand, then into the darkness, and said: "It's an awful shame, but there goes the Lord's penny."—Liverpool Post.

How Houses Explode

The most remarkable phenomenon connected with tornadoes is the explosion of houses, which literally burst, scattering their fragments in all directions. Sometimes substantial dwellings are carried high into the air and then explode. It is now understood that this is due to the fact that the "funnel cloud" (revolving at a rate of at least 500 miles an hour) has a vacuum inside. Thus it sucks up everything in its path, even emptying wells. It sucks all the air from around a house over which it passes, and the house (a vacuum being thus created outside of it) promptly explodes, owing to the pressure of the air, at thirty pounds to the square inch, from within.

The house, in a word, is transformed into a bomb.—Philadelphia Press.

And Lived Happily Ever After

mand-in-chief of the forces engaged in the successful hospital campaign, told a story at the dinner the night the final reports were made that involved a prominent member of the general committee. This man, it appears, has been married for a number of years and is a well known figure among their friends that they have never had any great difference of opinion. Mr. Leach said he asked this gentleman how he managed it.

"Well," said the committee member, "when my wife and I were married we agreed that I would settle all the big things and she would decide all the small matters."

Mr. Leach said he asked how it was, even under such an arrangement, that no disputes had arisen.

"It's this way," the man in question is alleged to have answered. "There have never been any big things to decide."

The Cost of Living

The cost of living's very high. And jumping all the time. For what a nickel used to buy. You have to pay a dime. All luxuries are out of sight. And people run in debt. For necessities that they think they really have to get.

Each day we see things getting worse. And wonder when 'twill stop. And if the time will ever come. When prices all will drop. The men who put the prices up. It's right hard to forgive. The cost of living's very high—Yet somehow we all live.—Somerville Journal.

Kid's Head Not Solid Bone

He's a merry little cherub, a bit more plump than most laddies who are within hailing distance of their third birthday, also somewhat unsteady on his legs. Because of the latter trait he skidded while making the distance from the kitchen to the dining room not long ago and cracked his head against the wall, discovering to his sorrow that a head usually fares worst in such collisions.

The gash in his forehead kept the youth indoors for some days. And of course it had to be "bride and care" weather, with an ice cream cart passing nearly every afternoon. Mother chanced to be upstairs when the ice cream man's song sent him racing to the window one afternoon. He gulped, then waved jubilantly to neighbors who were passing.

"See! See!" he called. "It kwam man!" It yielded only a friendly nod.

"But I wanna 'kweam. Get me one," he commanded.

The cart had passed by this time, but the neighbor, by sprinting, managed to overtake it and presently was back with an overflowing cone. The kid took it and devoted himself to the task of putting it under his rompers without further formality.

It simply bears out a theory of mine that most heads are not solid bone, contrary to popular belief," said the neighbor. "Exhibit A, the fact that his head didn't dent the wood-work; exhibit B, he knew what he wanted and he got it."

MORTALITY OF LOWELL

For the week ending June 2, 1917: Population, 107,978; total deaths, 52; deaths under five, 16; infectious diseases, 7; acute lung diseases, 10; meningeal diseases, 1; cerebro spinal meningitis, 2; tuberculosis, 4. Death rate: 25.01 against 16.37 and 20.70 for previous two weeks. Infectious diseases reported: Diphtheria, 20; scarlet fever, 2; measles, 1; tuberculosis, 6. Board of Health.

The Sun reaches the people who earn their money in Lowell and spend it in Lowell stores. It pays to advertise in The Sun, Lowell's greatest newspaper.

Girls! Use Lemons! Make a Bleaching, Beautifying Cream

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier. Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is simply marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

The Sun is conducting this column with the co-operation of the National Emergency Food Garden Commission, to inspire the planting of more food gardens throughout the country. You should watch this column every day. Any questions should be written on one side of the paper and sent to the Garden Editor of The Sun.

THE CUCUMBER

The cucumber grower has more insects to battle with than diseases to cure, says today's bulletin from the national emergency food garden commission, co-operating with this newspaper in a campaign for more food gardens and against waste.

Diseases prevalent among other garden vegetables, seldom attack cucumbers, though if the plants are not protected from disease-carrying insects they may become victims to any of the garden diseases.

Anthraxnose, downy mildew, and wilt sometimes attack the cucumber. Wilt is a fatal disease infected vines should be buried. Anthraxnose and mildew are fungous diseases and can be cured by spraying. The first symptoms of anthraxnose are brown spots on the leaves. Downy mildew appears in yellow spots. For both diseases, spray with Bordeaux mixture, first when the plants have begun to form vines and later after the first blossoms have faded. Repeat the spraying in two weeks, and then two weeks after that. Some gardeners spray for mildew and anthraxnose as long as the crop lasts. Insects attack both the leaves and roots of cucumbers. The striped beetle, spotted beetle and flea beetle are chewing insects that feed upon the leaves. The vine borer is a worm, which bores into the vine at the surface of the ground. When the vine borer intrenches itself, the vine must be cut open lengthwise and the worm removed and killed. Earth should be thrown over the vines every few feet so that new roots will form at those places.

The beetles, although they are very destructive, are not so formidable an enemy as the borer, as they can be dealt with in the open and are easily exterminated, doing no permanent injury to the vines.

A good arrangement to fence bugs out of the cucumber plants is a mosquito net stretched over each plant and held up by a half hoop. An excellent way to keep these parasites from the young plants is to cover them with pieces of netting, keeping the edges of the material covered with two inches of soil and let this remain until the plant begins to run.

U. S. DESTROYER HITS FREIGHT STEAMER

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The destroyer Ammen put into Charleston navy yard yesterday, the navy department announces, with a slightly damaged bow as a result of a collision with the American freighter Herman Frasch, a 2500-ton ship, in a fog off Charleston lightship early Saturday morning. The freight steamer Herman Frasch, which was in collision with the destroyer Ammen Saturday morning, arrived at a New England port yesterday. The captain reported that the bow of the destroyer dented some of the bow plates of his vessel above the water line and damaged the bridge. A section of rail 100 feet in length was torn away by the destroyer's anchor, which was left aboard the freighter through the breaking of its cable. The destroyer stood by until assured that the steamer was able to proceed.

These delegates are chiefly those whose word is as good as their signature, and who are not inclined to sign the pledge cards. Several of these men have been induced by the writer, and in each the delegate has stated that he certainly vote for the ex-governor.

These delegates will give Bates a total vote of 132, but there are in addition 31 delegates who up to yesterday were pledged to no candidate; they are largely men who in the past have been independent republicans or democrats, and who are now attracted to Joseph Walker for president of the convention, had he remained in the field as a candidate. Mr. Walker himself is one of them, and as he will ably vote for Bates, it is reasonable to assume that at least fifty per cent of the group will follow him. If 15 of the remaining 30 vote with Bates, the latter will have 65 votes, or nearly fifty more than necessary.

It is now considered practically certain that the convention will at once take up the work of revising the constitution, and will continue it until it is completed. There has been much discussion of a possible postponement, but Governor McCall has done all in his power to prevent such action, and movement has apparently been ended off.

One of the first real contests in the convention is likely to arise over the method to be adopted for selecting its committees. A former attorney general, who is a delegate to the convention, is of the opinion that under section six of the act creating the con-

They (the delegates) shall be called to order by the governor, and shall proceed to organize themselves in convention by choosing a president and such other officers and such committees, as may be deemed expedient."

the president to prepare a list for the convention to pass upon, or to create a committee on committees. Inasmuch as the latter course is preferred by Matthew Hale, it is not likely to be adopted, as Hale is distinctly "persona non grata" with a very large number of the delegates. If the president is authorized to prepare a list of committees

It is likely to be the first of next week before he will have them ready. He has done absolutely nothing up to the present time, and will not prepare any, except possibly a committee of rules, until the convention has expressed its desires in the matter.

PARIS ROCKED BY EXPLOSION

PARIS, June 4.—All Paris was awakened about 4 o'clock this morning by a powerful detonation followed by several smaller ones. A factory in Aubervilliers, a suburb, had exploded with such force that nothing was left of the structure of the factory itself, while the roofs of nearby buildings were carried away. Other damage of considerable extent was done in the neighborhood but no casualties from the explosion thus far have been reported.

ARREST 141 PERSONS IN DRAFT PLOTS

NEW YORK, June 4.—The government's activities against alien enemies, it was learned here today, have resulted in arrests of 141 persons in recent weeks in this district, which includes parts of northern Jersey and western Connecticut.

BRITISH SUBJECTS IN U.S. CALLED TO DUTY

NEW YORK, June 4.—Lieut. Gen. T. M. G. Bridges, who was the military head of the British mission to the United States, has given to The Associated Press a statement explaining the enlistment of British subjects in this country.

"I am gratified," said Gen. Bridges, "that congress passed an act permitting the allies to enlist those of their respective subjects who are residing in the United States. There are large numbers of British subjects living in the United States who have up to now been unable to enlist, as no machinery was available to handle them. I expect that they will now come forward in large numbers to do their duty by their country."

"The United States government and the officials of the war department have been most sympathetic and are prepared to co-operate in every possible way with the British recruiting mission, under the command of Brig. Gen. W. A. White, Commandant Rangers, which has established its headquarters at 250 Broadway, New York, and will shortly have branches throughout the country."

"Men between the ages of 18 and 45 desirous of enlisting in the Imperial or Canadian forces may present themselves at the United States recruiting depots, where they will receive their preliminary medical examination and be forwarded free of cost to British or Canadian depots."

"While awaiting this opportunity for voluntary enlistment, it must always be remembered that a man without a country and that every man who enjoys the privileges of citizenship has corresponding obligations to fulfill."

"It will be the object of both countries to insure that there is no escape from these obligations. I consider that measures will probably be taken to this end. All men therefore should lose no time in selecting the branch of service to which they wish to be posted."

"I confidently appeal to the inherent loyalty and fighting spirit of the British race to answer willingly the call of the empire in the hour of its need."

ZEALOTS IN ANTI-DRAFT PLOT HELD FOR FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Three youthful zealots, two boys and a girl, were taken into custody by United States agents, the first persons to be arrested in connection with the propaganda against the draft law. For several hours they remained prisoners in the federal building, New York, and were then released in $500 bail each, the money being furnished by Professor H. W. L. Dana, a well known pacifist.

The boys are Owen Cattell and Charles Francis Phillips, students at Columbia. The girl is Eleanor Wilson Parker, a graduate of Barnard. Cattell's father is Professor J. McK. Cattell of Columbia. Phillips' father is a wealthy manufacturing tailor. The girl's parents live at Asbury Park, and it is stated that one of her uncles, responsible for the "Wilson" in her name, signed the Declaration of Independence.

CANADIAN TROOPS IN THICK OF BATTLE

ON THE BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE, June 4, via London.—(From a Staff Correspondent of The Associated Press.)—The fighting which raged yesterday about the electric power station southwest of Lens was as intense as any since the beginning of the battle of Arras, considering the number of troops involved. Canadian troops were in the thick of it, first and last. They gained the ruins of the electrical works shortly before 2 o'clock Sunday morning, after a splendid dash in the moonlight and it was not until nearly 8 o'clock Sunday night that they were finally driven back to their original positions under the pressure of German counter attacks. The works were held 15 hours against the concentrated German artillery fire.

The enterprise was not without compensations for 112 prisoners were taken and valuable identifications were obtained.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 4.—Four days' absence from his home from which he so mysteriously disappeared last Wednesday night, has not shaken the faith of the mother, that Lloyd Keet, 14 months old son of J. H. Keet of this city, will be returned safely.

Police today were working on another clue furnished by Mrs. S. E. Palmer, who lives directly opposite the Keet residence. Mrs. Palmer stated that she saw the baby disappearing in the shadows surrounding the Keet home, shortly after the departure of the parents for the dance at a country club.

RECRUITING WAS VERY BRISK TODAY

Recruiting was very brisk in all branches of the army and navy service today, due no doubt to the fact that tomorrow is registration day. At the regular army station in Central street, it was reported at an early hour this morning that five applicants had already been received. Sergt. George S. Crowell who has replaced Sergt. Hanna as the local recruiting officer, will be on hand at all times to explain the advantages of the regular army to any young man who desires enlightenment on this branch of the service. Sergt. Crowell is well qualified for this kind of work as he has spent nearly a score of years in the service. He has been in the Philippines, in Mexico, and many other of our outlying possessions.

The members of the local companies of the National Guard are still on the lookout for new men. Recruiting booths have been set up in various parts of the city. Meetings will continue to be held evenings throughout the week at several of the downtown corners and it is expected that a large number of newcomers will be enrolled.

At the naval recruiting station in the first enlistments were received in the station this morning. The station will be open all day tomorrow.

Tickets for the dance which is to be conducted by Battery B, the 15th of this month are going at a fast rate and a capacity attendance is expected at the armory on the evening of the affair. Little are being held regularly on Tuesday and Friday evenings, and the officers' school is being held every Sunday morning.

FINAL WARNING

urged to register by the Prince of Udine, head of Italy's war mission in an address to a delegation of his countrymen who called on him at the embassy.

It was announced today that the requirement of the new law that the registration cards of men absent from their home precincts reach the precinct registrar by June 5, would not be enforced against Americans now abroad. Instructions sent to American consuls, accompanying registration cards, however, ask those who fill out the blanks to get them back to the registrars as quickly as possible.

The regulations provide that Americans returning to the United States must register within five days after their arrival at an American port. Registration at the consulates abroad, however, is purely voluntary and cannot be enforced while the citizen remains out of the country.

Man Arrested in Boston

BOSTON, June 4.—John Scoronski was arrested by federal authorities today charged with advising two young men of draft age not to register tomorrow as required by the president's proclamation. Information regarding Scoronski's alleged activities was obtained by the police, who reported the matter to United States Marshal John J. Mitchell. Charles Barkus and Stanley Collins, the young men concerned in the charge, were summoned to testify as witnesses for the government at a preliminary hearing.

Arrest at New Britain

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., June 4.—Efforts were being made by the authorities today to locate the persons responsible for distribution of anti-draft literature in this city. Hundreds of hand-bills, condemning conscription and urging the government for such action have been distributed.

One person, Matthew Matzka, is under arrest on suspicion that the authorities believe several persons were concerned in the affair.

Reports from Bristol were to the effect that similar hand-bills had been distributed there.

Labor Leaders Arrested

MARQUETTE, Mich., June 4.—John Sakkel, an organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, and Pietro Pierre, labor leader, were arrested today at Negaunee, Mich., a mining town near here, for making alleged incendiary remarks at an anti-conscription mass meeting. The meeting was held after a parade in which many miners took part. Later several hundred persons gathered about the city jail and attempted to release the two prisoners.

Fearing another attempt would be made to storm the jail, officials hurried the prisoners to the county jail here where they will be held for examination before a United States commissioner.

10,500,000 Due to Register

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Despite the efforts of disloyal citizens and German sympathizers to discourage the registration of young men of a military age there is the fullest confidence in government circles that nearly every eligible man will perform his patriotic duty on Tuesday.

Advices from governors of the 45 states to Gen. Crowder, provost marshal general, report that all arrangements for the registration are complete.

CHANGE NAMES OF CANNING CLASSES WILL GUYNEMER, FRANCE'S FAMOUS AVIATOR

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Secretary Daniels announced today that the names of the seized German ships assigned to the navy have been changed as follows:

Geier to Schurz; Breslau to Bridgeport; Kiel to Camden; Leibentels to Quincy; Saxonia to Savannah; Vogens to Quincy; Nicaragua to Pensacola; Odessa to New York; Hohenfeld to Long Beach; Frida Leonhardt to Astoria; Andromeda to Bath; Rudolf Blumberg to Buford; Praesident to Kittery; Locksun to Gulfport.

To Enforce Draft Law

WASHINGTON, June 4.—All the activities of the department of justice have been centered upon the enforcement of the conscription law. Attorney General Gregory issued a statement to this effect today.

"All other matters for the time being," he said, "will be subordinated to the enforcement of the conscription act. General Gregory issued a statement to this effect today. The officers and agents of the department throughout the country have been instructed accordingly. Wherever necessary, the census bureau and by the local authorities of the number of men who should register total somewhere in the neighborhood of 10,500,000. It is not expected, however, that this figure will be reached for various reasons.

At the same time army officials believe that the registration will disclose the readiness of more than 3,000,000 men of available age to come forward and serve their country.

FINAL DRIVE FOR THE LIBERTY LOAN

NEW YORK, June 4.—The final drive for subscriptions to the Liberty loan in which thousands of volunteer bond salesmen and saleswomen are enlisted, began in every district of Greater New York today. Tomorrow this force will be further increased by thousands of life insurance agents and fire insurance writers, and on Wednesday and every day until June 15 a special drive will be directed at some particular class or industry. Veterans of the civil and Spanish-American wars on street corners today took up the appeals made yesterday by ministers of all denominations, and tonight the campaign will be given further impetus at mass meetings at which Secretary McAdoo will be the principal speaker.

JAPANESE COMMISSION

TOKIO, June 3.—(Delayed in transmission)—The Japanese government is arranging for the creation of a comprehensive national commission under the presidency of Emperor Yoshihito for a discussion of the foreign policy of the empire. The commission will be made up of the members of the Japanese cabinet, the leaders of all the political parties and other prominent Japanese.

HARVARD TRAINING CAMP

CAMBRIDGE, June 4.—Members of the Harvard military training camp received their first instruction in the use of ammunition today. The first battalion went to the Wakefield rifle range for a week's instruction. The second and third battalions will be taken to Wakefield in succeeding weeks.

GERMANS BAR SINGERS FROM COMING HERE

AMSTERDAM, June 4, via London.—The largely attended general meeting of the German stage society at Berlin on Saturday, passed without a dissenting vote, the proposal of Count Seebach, director of the Dresden court theatre, binding the members to grant no absences or ex-contraction leave of absence to singers wishing to go to America and not to engage for five years any German singer who accepts an American engagement. Those present included the directors of the Schiller and Kleist theatres of Berlin and the German opera houses of Vienna, Hamburg, Leipzig, Breslau, Wiesbaden and Düsseldorf.

Count Seebach declared that his proposal had nothing to do with the war and was a measure of self-defense and self-preservation. He said it was intolerable that artists, who had been carefully trained by German tutors and supported by the German public and press should, just at the moment of maturity, make themselves over body and soul to an American contractor, to return after some years spent abroad so much more conceited. He continued:

"Artists will have to choose between America and Germany. Nothing need be feared from the proposal for Germany influences, for where is that influence now? It is in vain to desire to win Americans with civilities and sentimentalities."

According to the Kreuz Zeitung Count Seebach further expressed the opinion that German-Americans were the first of all Americans. After the meeting it was announced that henceforward artists who wished to go on a starting tour abroad would have to obtain the consent of the foreign office, where Dr. Frey, manager of the Court theatre at Darmstadt, has been appointed artistic adviser to deal with this question.

The resolution becomes effective at once and at the expiration of the five-year term offending members may be reinstated. Artists who entered into contracts prior to June 3 in the United States are not affected.

Sun want and opportunity adlets produce results.

DELIVER PRES. WILSON'S MESSAGE TO RUSSIA

WASHINGTON, June 4.—President Wilson's communication to the new Russian government on the war aims of the United States has been delivered at Petrograd by Ambassador Francis but will not be published in this country or in Russia for a day or two while the state department is clearing up what are officially characterized as "matters of detail."

Root Party in Russia

A RUSSIAN PORT, Sunday, June 3, via Tokyo, Japan, June 4.—The American commission to Russia, headed by Elihu Root, which arrived here safely this morning, left on a special train this afternoon bound for Petrograd after calling on the officials here. The Root party probably will reach the Russian capital June 11.

The American railroad commission, headed by John F. Stevens, has completed the inspection of this Russian port and left for Petrograd this morning on a special train. It is expected that the commission will reach Petrograd June 17.

50,000 Volunteers at Work

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—Nearly 50,000 volunteer salesmen canvassed the Philadelphia reserve bank district today in an effort to place a Liberty bond in every home.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

Martin McGinty was trying to dispose of a bundle of laundry and a clothes wringer in a store in Broadway Friday when Patrolman Ganley put in an appearance and questioned the man as to where he got the articles. Owing to the fact that McGinty was under the influence of liquor he was not able to give a coherent account of his whereabouts Saturday and was charged with drunkenness and larceny from an unknown person and the case was continued until this morning but the efforts of the police in endeavoring to locate the owner of the clothes and wringer proved fruitless.

The court found McGinty guilty and sentenced him to two months in jail. In the case of Abil Budhoom, charged with the larceny of $160 in money from Mohamud Kidder civil settlement was made.

George Martin, who recently received a dishonorable discharge from the United States navy, got into a mix-up with an African dodger at the pleasure show on the Lakeview avenue grounds Friday and when Patrolman Daniel Donovan went to put the man under arrest, the dodger drew a knife and the officer, however, did not care about entering any complaint against the man other than that of drunkenness and Martin was given a suspended sentence of one month in jail.

Florida Danphouse, a young girl who lives in Billerica, was charged with being a wayward person. Three officers testified to the actions of the defendant during the past several months. The court found the girl guilty but deferred imposing sentence until tomorrow morning.

James Duffy, charged with being drunk, was sentenced to three months in jail and Charles W. Ryan and Patrick H. Royal were each sentenced to two months, the latter appealing his case.

Leroy Magruder, charged with being drunk, was sentenced to one month in jail. Three first offenders were fined $2 each, and several cases were placed on file. John Thornton was sent to the state farm.

John Waldron said he was sick, had no home and wanted to be sent away for several months. He was sentenced to the state farm.

EX-GOV. FOSS SPEAKER AT TEMPERANCE RALLY

The Flying Squadron and state temperance committees conducted a very successful rally in the interest of war prohibition in the First Congregational church last evening. The opening prayer was delivered by Rev. J. M. Craig and hymns were sung by the church chorus. The rally was presided over by Robert F. Marden and the speakers were Secretary McNamara of the temperance committee, Mrs. William Tilton of Cambridge and former Governor Eugene N. Foss.

Foss' address was in part as follows: "The country is going dry, Massachusetts is going dry, Boston is going dry, and even Lowell is going dry. How do I know it? It is the simplest thing in the world. We are going dry because it does not pay to be wet. This question has resolved itself into a question of economy. It does not pay any longer, to drink liquor. No man who works with his hands and has a family to support can afford it. He gets it going and coming, on the one hand in higher taxation and the high cost of living, and on the other hand his family decreases in proportion as he uses liquor. These manufacturers in Lowell have no use for the saloon. They have found out that they cannot afford to employ a man who is addicted to liquor even moderately. No young man can hope for advance in industrial life who is addicted to liquor even moderately. No quasi-public corporation can employ a man who uses liquor.

"The public will not stand for it. The industries of the country are finding out that they have got to cut liquor out, and that is why the country is going dry."

"If you want to have Lowell grow, if you want to have it develop, make the city dry. You can do it. The water wagon is traveling so these days that it is likely to exceed the speed limit. But we are slow here in Massachusetts, pretty conservative, Senator Weeks says he is dry in Newton but wet in Washington. We want senators and representatives who are dry wherever they are.

"The conservation of food is the great question in this country at this moment. Are you going to have life sustaining bread or life destroying drink? I do not feel like plowing up my front yard and planting potatoes, as long as all these bushels of grain are going into the distilleries of the country. That is a waste. Do you know what our drink bill in this country is? It is $250,000,000 a year. With that money a road could be built, to bring our farms to the great industrial centers. Wouldn't that do something to reduce the cost of living? That is more money than we spend in education in this country from the kindergarten to the university. It is three times the value of the wheat crop in normal times in the United States. It is more than two and one-half times the amount it takes to run our entire government in normal times. That amount of money would build 25 battleships in a single year. Don't we need them at the present time?"

A resolution addressed to the president and congressmen, urging them to take such steps as may be most advisable to prohibit the manufacture and sale of liquor during the continuance of war conditions was offered by A. K. Whitcomb and adopted. At the close of the rally "America" was sung by the assembly and benediction was given by Rev. E. H. Newcomb.

OFFICIAL ANTI-AIRCRAFT DEFENDER OF NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 4.—The veteran corps of artillery which has been made the official anti-aircraft defender of New York, it was announced today, has purchased a 26-acre field for a training camp.

The corps, organized in 1790 and consisting until a few months ago of descendants of officers and men of honorable record in the army and navy of the United States during the Revolutionary war and the war of 1812 has widened its scope to take in any eligible American not subject to conscription.

McAdoo to speak in Boston tomorrow

BOSTON, June 4.—The New England Liberty Loan committee will seek to make this week the most effective period of its campaign. It will have the assistance of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, who will speak in Faneuil hall tomorrow. Additional local committees have been organized and numerous methods of publicity have been devised.

McAdoo in New York

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Secretary McAdoo left today for New York, the first stop on his second speaking tour in behalf of the Liberty loan which will include eastern, middle eastern and southern cities. He will make two addresses in New York tonight, will speak in Boston tomorrow and will close his campaign with a speech at Pittsburgh on June 12.

POLICEMEN OF LOWELL ARE PATRIOTIC

The members of the police department, in order to show their patriotism and willingness to serve the country without pay, have volunteered their services at the various polling places throughout the city tomorrow between the hours of 7 in the morning and 9 o'clock at night. Supt. Welch, upon learning of the patriotic spirit of the officers of the department, made out three details, the first being from 7 in the morning until noon, the second from noon till 4:45 o'clock in the afternoon, and the third from 4:45 until the close of registration at 9 o'clock.

In looking over the list of members of the department who are between the ages of 21 and 31, Supt. Welch finds that there are 12 eligible for a call for service.

CRAZED WOMAN ON ROOF OF CHURCH 7 HOURS

BOSTON, June 4.—While at the request of Rev. Philip J. O'Donnell the entire congregation at St. James' church on Harrison avenue prayed that she might not jump and would come to no harm, Mrs. Celine Venard, 38 years old, of Common street, sat on the edge of the roof of the church yesterday threatening to dive into the street 76 feet below if any one came near her.

She sat on the roof from 3:30 yesterday morning until 11 o'clock, when she was finally induced to leave her perilous position and descend a ladder into the choir loft. For several hours crowds numbered by thousands stood in the streets below, expecting every second that she would plunge to her death.

All efforts of her husband who climbed to the roof and tried to induce her to come down, of two priests who mounted to the top of a 75-foot ladder thrown up to the roof by the men of Ladder 18 and of others failed to dissuade her from her intention of finally leaping to the street. She was overpowered and sent to the Psychopathic hospital in a taxicab.

STOPPED HIS BACKACHE

George Lawrence, railroad fireman, Kitterell, Mass., writes: "I used three bottles of Foley's Kidney Pills when I was so sick I hardly could stay on the engine and I am cured now. My back ached all the time; kidneys ached all the time; nervous, had to rise many times at night." Falls & Burleighshaw, 418 Middlesex st., Moody's Drug Store, 301 Central st.

Registration Cards

The following young men who are to be out of town on Tuesday have sent their registration cards to Mayor O'Donnell in compliance with the law: Edward C. Eno, 767 Merrimack street, from Morrisstown, N. J.; Francis Russell Paul, Jr., 57 Rock street, from Salem, Ohio; William J. Quinn, 15 Drayton street, from Southbridge, Mass.; Peter W. Reilly, Jr., Hovey street, from Dartmouth college, Hanover, N. H.; William J. Reardon, 15 Marginal street, from Washington hospital, Washington, D. C.; H. B. Nudd, 435 Central street, from East Andover, N. H.; Oliver T. Lane, 31 Georgia avenue, from Dunellen, N. J.; Martin Hiltz, 49 Beckley street, from Kenmore, N. Y.; Frederic Spalding, 1616 Middlesex street, from Pittsburg, N. Y.; William H. Downing, 4 West Eleventh street, from Olean, N. Y.; J. J. McCann, 17 Agawam street, from Barre, Vt.; Harold A. McLaughlin, 57 Mt. Vernon street, from Canton, Ohio; William F. Cabill, 316 Rogers street, from Portland, Me.; Herbert J. Carragan, 355 Beacon street, from Portland, Me.; Bernard G. McGuire, 216 Foster street, from Pittsburg, Pa.; Lawrence Van Dyke, Binch, 24 South Canton street, from Philadelphia.

Harry J. Murray, a graduate nurse of St. John's hospital, has enlisted in the naval reserve and has been assigned to the naval hospital at Chelsea.

At a meeting of the Lowell Firemen's Fund association, held recently, it was voted to invest a portion of the fund in Liberty bonds.

The Mayor Protests

At a recent meeting of the municipal council it was voted, with Mayor O'Donnell opposing, to award $500 each to W. T. Bartlett and to David M. Blackie for buildings in Varnum avenue which the city had seized for park purposes. Mayor O'Donnell has protested against such payment and has sent the following letter to City Auditor Page:

June 3, 1917.
Mr. Charles D. Page, City Auditor, Lowell, Mass.:
Dear Sir:—At a recent meeting of the municipal council, a vote was passed authorizing the payment of $500 each to Messrs. Bartlett and Blackie for buildings in Varnum avenue seized by the city for park purposes.

I was opposed to such payment, believing that the amount named was excessive and, possibly, contrary to law. As the property taken was assessed for $200 each case, the amount paid, therefore, being in excess of 25 per cent above the assessed value.

I would suggest that you withhold the payment of the money in each of these cases until the municipal council can have an opportunity to reconsider the matter. Respectfully,
James E. O'Donnell,
Mayor of Lowell.

Mayor Hears Complaints

As a result of complaints which the mayor has received he has instructed the superintendent of police to maintain strict supervision over the various performances on the Lakeview avenue grounds. If there is not a general improvement the license as a whole will be cancelled.

The mayor has received a number of signs which are to be placed in the danger spots of the city warning motorists to exercise caution in these particular places.

Commissioner Morse is getting in touch with various property owners on Merrimack, Central and Middlesex streets in regard to discussing the matter of uniform sidewalks on these streets.

Naturalization Sessions

Superintendent Molloy, of the school department announces that there will be a general meeting of the school teachers in high school hall at 4:15 on next Thursday, Mr. Molloy has also received the following letter which is self-explanatory:

their fighting in the vicinity of Lens, and apparently Gen. Haig has not pressed further the attempt to advance made there yesterday which was checked there by violent counterattacks with heavy forces.

British Recapture Post

In an independent operation further south near Cherisy the British last night recaptured the post taken from them by the Germans in an attack on Saturday night.

Russian Situation

The situation in Russia continues extremely uncertain. While better reports have come from the army at the front, Minister of War Kerensky declaring it constantly increasing in power, conditions in Petrograd are becoming still more unsettled.

The declaration of independence by Kronstadt, the naval fortress near Petrograd, has been followed by a threat to send sailors from the garrisons of Petrograd for demonstrations against the present council of deputies. It was even reported yesterday that a force of the sailors had landed at Gulyeff island, the port of Petrograd and begun an attack. Later, however, this was found to be untrue.

Threatened Attack on Petrograd

PETROGRAD, June 3, via London. June 4.—Sailors from the Kronstadt garrison, which recently declared its independence of the central government, arrived in Petrograd early today with the announcement that warships at Kronstadt would come to Petrograd immediately and land men to make demonstrations. Later it was reported that sailors had landed at Gulyeff island, port of Petrograd and begun an attack. A visit to the Gulyeff port quarters showed that the story of the landing and attack was untrue. However, it was sufficiently alarming to provoke intense excitement in the city and cause the dispatch to the spot of a military force.

Petrograd waited today for the threatened demonstration by the Kronstadt warships, and as the time passed with no such incident the announcement of the sailor who reached here last night came to be regarded by a majority as merely boastful talk on the part of extremists acting in defiance of the orders of Anatole Lamont, president of the Kronstadt council of workmen's and soldiers' deputies.

The Kronstadt sailors who came to Petrograd said the demonstrations would be for the purpose of bringing about new elections of members of the council of workmen's and soldiers' deputies, whose present members were denounced as bourgeois.

The sailors also demanded that former Emperor Nicholas be handed over to them. At street meetings they expressed dissatisfaction with War Minister Kerensky and the whole provisional government, particularly for abolition of the death penalty which they characterized as premature.

On visiting the Gulyeff quarter the correspondent found that a vast fire had been burning for some time, having been partially extinguished. A large quantity of sulphur was after. There were evidences of a violent explosion. Windows at a considerable distance were broken. It appears that at 6 o'clock this morning the ice-breaker Cranfield, instead of the Kronstadt warships, arrived off Gulyeff. It was flying the red flag. On it were sailors and workmen who were singing the hymn of the Bolshevik extremists. The ice-breaker steamed up and down the wharf, took on board a party of Petrograd workmen and departed.

Simultaneously seven large cases of phosphorus on the wharf ignited. The fire extended to a quantity of salts, causing a violent explosion, after which the stores of sulphur caught fire and were consumed. No one was injured and buildings close by were undamaged except the destruction of glass. Inquiries show it is altogether improbable that any one landed from the ice-breaker. The conflagration apparently was caused either by incendiaries from quarters other than Kronstadt or, as official investigators on the spot suggest by spontaneous combustion of phosphorus exposed to damp and heat.

POLICE PROMOTIONS

Morris Shapiro, James Noonan and Michael O'Neill have been promoted from the reserve force to the permanent force of the police department and have started on their new duties.

Charles J. Barry, John G. Leahy, Jas. E. McCann, Walter L. Kiviah and John W. Mahan, who have been on the supernumerary force, have been promoted to the reserve force.

BALLADVALE DEFEATS WOBURN

The Ballardvale A. A. defeated the strong Woburn A. A. Saturday afternoon at Ballardvale by the score of 5 to 1. It looked as if Woburn would ring around the home team when they got two runs in the first inning but Murphy, Ballardvale's star pitcher, was invincible after steadily lining down. The B. A. A. team played poor ball at the start but they tightened up and played first class ball at the finish. O'Neill hit the B. A. A. boys guessing for a while but they hit him hard when they got going. The features of the game for the B. A. A. were the pitching of W. Cronin at short and the pitching of Murphy who had 17 strike outs. The features for Woburn were the batting of O'Neill and the fielding of Veno.

A public flag raising will be held at the power house of the Bay State street railway tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock. The public is invited.

James Bridges, of 22 Fayette street, suffered severe scalp wounds Saturday night, resulting from a fall at the World of Pleasure show at the Lakeview avenue grounds. The ambulance was summoned and the injured man was removed to St. John's hospital where nine stitches were taken in his head.

The brief thunder storm yesterday afternoon succeeded in putting a number of the cars of the Bay State Street Railway Co. out of commission. Two cars on the Chelmsford street line were put out of commission temporarily and one on the Andover street route had to be towed to the car barns. Several cars on the Lakeview line were also temporarily crippled.

Robert M. Blood, formerly of the editorial staff of the Courier-Citizen and later of the Boston Globe, but for the past three and one-half years on the editorial staff of the Montreal Star, was a visitor in Lowell today. "Bob" spent the day in renewing old acquaintances and although he intends to return to Canada after spending a short vacation in Boston and vicinity, he says that conditions in the United States are away ahead of those in Canada.

NATURALIZATION SESSION

A naturalization session for final papers was held at the local court today with Justice Chase on the bench. United States Attorney Farrell was the examiner and the oath of allegiance to this country was administered to 70 candidates by Clerk Dillingham. The session lasted all day and at noon all the candidates examined had answered the questions to the satisfaction of the court. And accordingly no one was rejected. The new citizens represented several nationalities.

MERCHANTS WILL HAVE LIBERTY BOND DAY

At a meeting of the mercantile committee on Liberty Loan, held at the board of trade rooms today, it was voted that Friday, June 8, will be observed as Merchants' Liberty bond day. All merchants are requested to close their stores at 5:35 o'clock on this date instead of 6, and have the heads of their store address employees explaining bond bonds and asking that they do their bit.

It is desired that any merchant with whom the committee has not gotten in touch should follow out the above plan.
